BILLS PASSED.

The bill authorizing the congregation of convicts in the Western Penitentiary for labor, learning and religious exercises, was passed.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

A large number of private bills passed first reading, but were not finally acted upon.

The bill incorporating the Central Telegraph Company from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh was defeated.

Mr. Kerr's bill amending Allegheny county road laws was defeated.

DEATH SENTENCES.

Mr. JOSEPHS called up the public bill authorizing the Governor to remit sentences, and reduce death sentences to imprisonment for a term of years.

It was amended by Mr. CLARK, of Warren, by striking out all except death sentence, and passed. This was hurried through in hope of reaching the case of Gerald Eaton, to be hung in Philadelphia to-morrow.

THE CASE OF TWITCHELL.

The Governor has not indicated any determination to interfere with the execution of Twitchell or Gerald Eaton. The belief is both will be hung.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

Complete Returns---Jewell's Majority 811--Republican Majority in the Legislature Forty on Joint Ballot.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARTFORD, April 6.—Jewell's majority will be about five hundred. The Senate will be composed of fourteen Republicans and seven Democrats, and the Republicans will have about twenty majority in the House.

NEW HAVEN, April 6.—Complete returns give the result of the Connecticut election as follows: Jewell, 811 majority for Governor; Strong, Republican, elected to Congress in the First District, by 765 majority; Kellogg, Republican, in Second District, by 323; Starkweather, Republican, in Third District, by 2,254; Barnum, Democrat, in Fourth District, by about 700. The Republican majority in the Legislature is forty on joint ballot.

HARTFORD, April 8.—The Democratic authorities of Salisbury acknowledge they could not hold a legal meeting. The polls were opened, however, and eighteen Republican and three hundred and ninety-four Democratic votes were taken. Counting these, Jewell's majority would be but three hundred and thirty-five. Had Salisbury voted legally, as last year, Jewell's majority would be six hundred and twenty-two.

Horrible Murder and Suicide.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, April 6.—At seven o'clock this morning A. J. Walt, while in in a fit of insanity, with a hatchet brained Newbury Gibson, his room-mate, and then rushed into an adjoining room to kill George Nelson, who warded off the blows, receiving terrible wounds in his hands. Walt then ran back to the room where he had killed Gibson, and screaming out "Farewell to the world," leaped from a window on the third floor, killing himself instantly. Nelson is in a critical condition. All the parties were formerly prominent merchants here.

St Louis Charter Election.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—The returns of the municipal election to-day are meagre, but they indicate the election of Nathan Cole and the entire Republican city ticket by a large majority. It is is also thought there will be a small Republican majority in the Council.

Later but still incomplete returns give Nathan Cole, Radical, for Mayor, nearly 2,500 majority. The remainder of the ticket runs a good ways behind. The Council will probably be nine Radicals to thirteen Democrats.

HUDSON, April 6.—A serious accident occurred on the Albany and Boston Railroad, near Russell, this afternoon. A freight train was thrown from the track by the breaking of wheels, and six freight cars, loaded with merchandize, completely demolished and the contents nearly destroyed. A brakeman was seriously injured.

SECOND EDITION.

FOUR O'CLOCK A. M.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

[FIRST SESSION.]

SENATE: Pacific Railroad Question Further Considered, Without Action. HOUSE: Indian Appropriation Bill Considered and Passed in Committee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 6, 1869.

SENATE.

Mr. SHERMAN, from the Committee on Finance, reported back without amendment, the bill authorizing payment for certain services rendered to the United States in the late insurrecsionary States. It authorizes the heads of the several executive departments to pay to officers and employes of the United States who failed to take the oath prescribed by act of July 2d, 1862, such sums of money as may be found due them for services heretofore actually rendered; provided, it shall be made to appear that said oath was duly taken after the rendition of such services, or the person claiming the same shall take the oath prescribed by the act of August 6th, 1861; but in cases of death before the enactment of this bill, such oath or affirmation may be waived.

Mr. PATTERSON introduced a bill to reorganize the clerical force of the Interior Department and for other purposes. Referred to Joint Committee on Retrenchment.

Mr. RAMSEY, Chairman of Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads, presented a communication from the Postmaster General in relation to cheap ocean postage.

Mr. SUMNER said there was a movement on foot in England to secure penny ocean postage, and expressed the opinion that if our Postal Department should give us three cent ocean postage it would be a great thing to accomplish.

The bill to make San Diego, California, a port of delivery, was passed.

Mr. PATTERSON reported a bill to reorganize the clerical force of the Departments and for other purposes.

Mr. MORTON offered a resolution directing the Secretary of the Senate to pay the Senators from the reconstructed States from the commencement of the second session of the Fortieth Congress. Laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. WILLIAMS, the bill to aid in the construction of a branch of the Central Pacific Railroad to Portland, Oregon, was taken up and discussed by Messrs. Williams, Conkling and Corbett until the expiration of the morning hour, which brought up the unfinished business, the joint resolution to protect the interests of the United States in the Pacific Railroad.

Mr. STEWART, of Nevada, spoke at length against the Union Pacific and the Credit Mobilier, and in favor of the Central Pacific.

The amendment offered by Mr. Sherman, yesterday, was modified at the suggestion of Mr. Williams, so as to direct the President to fix a point of junction according to the legal rights of the two respective roads, and adopted—53 to 6; the latter were, Messrs. Davis, Howard, McDonald, Morton, Nye and Osborn.

Mr. DAVIS offered an amendment directing the Attorney General, first, to investigate whether or not the charter and all the franchises of the Union Pacific Railroad and its branches have not been forfeited, and to execute all necessary legal proceedings if they have; second, to investigate whether the said Company has not made illegal dividends on stock, and if so to execute the necessary legal proceedings to have the same re-imbursed; and, third, to investigate whether any of the directors, agents or employes of the Company have violated any penal laws, and if so to institute the proper criminal proceedings against all who have done so. Agreed to.

Mr. HOWARD then moved to strike out a portion of the amendment and insert his amendment offered yesterday, naming as the officers who shall constitute the Board of Commissioners the same list as in yesterday's report, with the addition of General Canby, and directing them to fix the point of junction on the line approved by the Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. NYE opposed the amendment, and declared himself opposed to any legislation taking this matter out of the hands of the officer to whom the law originally committed it. Nobody except the Union Pacific Railroad Company complained of that action in the matter, and the secret of the whole struggle on their part was that they wanted to get possession of Ogden, the junction of the two roads, and keep the Central Company from enjoying any of the advantages that it would derive from having its eastern terminus at that point.

Mr. CONKLING said he would not vote for the second section of this bill in any of the proposed forms, nor would he allow such legislation for or against any corporation or individual to pass, without earnestly protesting against it.

A motion for recess from 4,30 till 7,30 was carried.

At 3,55 the Senate went into Executive session.

Evening Session.—Mr. CHANDLER, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a joint resolution extending the time for the completion of the Portage and Lake Superior Ship Canal, and it was passed.

Mr. MORRILL, from Committee on Finance, reported adversely the joint resolution to authorize the importation free of duty of works of art intended for free exhibition.

On motion, indefinitely postponed.

Mr. RICE called up the bill to extend the time for the construction of the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad. Passed.

On motion of Mr. ABBOTT, the bill to remove political disabilities from certain persons named therein was taken up and passed.

The bill for the relief of Blanton Duncan, of Kentucky, was amended and passed.

The consideration of the joint resolution to protect the interests of the United States in the Pacific Railroad was resumed.

Mr. SHERMAN offered an amendment to the pending amendment of Mr. Howard, modifying it so as to authorize the President to appoint a Board of Commissioners, simply to examine and report upon the condition of the Union Pacific Railroad, but not to do anything to fix the point of junction.

Mr. HOWARD declined to accept the amendment, because his object was to settle the point of junction by legislation.

Mr. WILSON said the five Directors appointed to take care of the interests of the United States were unanimous in urging action. He believed these gentlemen knew what the interests of the country were, and that the Senate ought to pass the act without delay.

Mr. SHERMAN advocated his amendment.

Mr. NYE followed in a general attack upon the management of the Union Pacific Railroad.

At 10:20 the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Census bill was taken up.

Mr. GARFIELD explained and advocated it.

The Senate deficiency appropriation bill, with amendments, was reported.

The Special Committee on the mode of appointing and the rate of compensation of the Senate employes reported, recommending retrenchment by not employing extra officers. The report shows that the official expenses of the Senate per capita are about three times as much as those of the members of the House.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to postpone the Census bill till December. Lost—65 to 88. The Democrats generally voted against postponement.

The House proceeded to consider the bill by sections for amendment.

Mr. JENCKES moved to strike out everything relating to subsequent census, and that the bill should be a temporary matter, to be superceded by a bill to be reported and acted on at the next session.

The amendment was agreed to.

Motions to increase the salary of the Superintendents from four thousand to five thousand, and to reduce it to three thousand, were rejected.

Mr. JENCKES moved an amendment to make the appointment of subordinate officers on the nomination of the Superintendent. Agreed to.

Mr. GARFIELD, on behalf of the Committee, moved to amend by requiring the census to be taken on the 1st of June, 1870. Agreed to.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, moved to amend by requiring a table of divorces to be given. Agreed to.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, suggested, as a substitute for the sixth section, an amendment providing that the census shall be taken by Assessors and Assistant Assessors of Internal Revenue, without additional compensation, and that for the purposes of this act they should be under the direction of the Superintendent of the Census.

Mr. GARFIELD opposed the amendment, which would make the bill appear to the people as being connected with taxation.

Mr. JENCKES moved to strike out all after the fifth section, and add a new section giving the Joint Committee on Retrenchment power to inquire as to the best method and report by bill at the next session.

The amendment was agreed to, and the bill passed.

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Elections, reported resolutions on the contested election case from the Third Congressional District of Pennsylvania, that Jno. Moffett, the sitting member, is not entitled to his seat, and that Leonard Myers, the contestant, is. He gave notice that he would call up the report for action on Thursday.

Mr. PAINE, from the same Committee, reported that Mr. McCrain, claiming a seat from the Fifth Congressional District of Louisiana, is not eligible to a seat in the House. Laid on the table.

Mr. NIBLACK asked but failed to obtain leave to introduce a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to enquire as to having full daily wages paid for eight hours labor.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Judd in the Chair, on the Senate amendment to the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. DAWES, Cqairman of the Committee on Appropriations, said they had agreed to recommend an appropriation of two million dollars, to be placed in the hands of the President, with full authority, according to his discretion and judgment, and under his official responsibility, to maintain peace with the Indians, to promote civilization among them, and place them when practicable on reservations, to encourage efforts at self support and to make a report to Congress next December. The adoption of such amendment, which he offered as a substitute for the Senate amendments, would save an expenditure of two million dollars, would save the Government from all the immediate consequences of assuming these treaties, and would put the responsibility where it belonged, with the Executive.

Mr. CLARK desired to move a proviso, that hereafter Indian tribes shall be held incapable of making treaties with the United States, but the House refused to suspend the rules for the purpose.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, insisted that by the ratification of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution, Indians became citizens, consequently there was no validity in any treaty attempted to be made with any Indians since the ratification of that amendment. He commented on the vicious system of making Indian treaties, and hoped the House would stand up firmly against them.

Without disposing of the bill the Committee rose.

Mr. PAINE, from the Election Committee, made a report in the contested election case from the First Congressional District of Louisiana, that the claimant, S. T. Martin, is unable to take the test oath.

The report was laid on the table.

The House then took a recess, the evening session to be for the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill.

Evening Session—In Committee of the Whole on the Indian appropriation bill, the question being on Mr. Dawes' amendment.

A long discussion followed.

Mr. CLARK, of Kansas, supported the amendment offered by Mr. Dawes, and also one of his own.

Mr. BECK also supported Mr. Dawes' amendment.

Mr. LAWRENCE opposed the Senate amendments, and also that of Mr. Dawes. He suggested that all roaming Indians be collected into one reservation, and a general civil government extended over them. He desired to have the adjournment resolution rescinded and a general Indian policy adopted.

Mr. BINGHAM supported the amendment of Mr. Dawes, but suggested that the appropriation be increased to two and a half millions. He considered the Indian treaties binding on the House.

Mr. DAWES again argued in support of his amendment.

Mr. WILKINSON believed in carrying out the treaties, and did not see why two millions should be placed in the hands of the President, to do with as he pleased, without any restraint whatever.

Mr. BUTLER, of Massechusetts, favored an increase of the appropriation to two and a half millions.

The question was taken on the increase to two and a half millions and rejected.

Mr. Dawes' amendment was then adopted.

The Senate amendments were then taken up and disposed of in the manner recommended by the Committee on Appropriations, twenty-two being concurred in and one hundred and three non-concurred in.

The Committee rose and the House adjourned.

The vote in the House will be taken to-morrow on the amendments.

NEW YORK CITY.

Fisk vs. Union Pacific Railroad Company--Sheriff to be Indicted--Another Investment by Pike.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 6, 1869.

Judge Blatchford to-day delivered an elaborate decision, in the U. S. Circuit Court, that the case of Fisk against the Union Pacific Railroad was properly within the jurisdiction of the U. S. Court, and should be removed there, under the act of Congress, passed July 27th, 1868. This was the first and only case under the statute, but the Judge cited the decision of Chief Justice Marshall, that the removal of any case could be made whenever a question arose during its progress which was to be decided under the Constitution and laws of the United States. Other decisions by Judges Nelson and Washington, of similar purport, were cited.

"Any member of a corporation," says Judge Blatchford, "which is the creation of an act of Congress, at the commencement of a suit can, by petition, and complying with the statute requirements as to bond, &c., seek removal, and the State Court must accept the security and proceed no further with the suit. If the State Court goes on, its whole proceedings are null and void, and all offensive actions of other parties against those seeking removal are pure and naked trespasses. Any writ of mandamus to compel the removal of a case like this to the United States Courts is unnecessary. The case being here by operation of law, independent of any compliance of State Court, the petition for removal was regular in all respects. The case was properly made out, and the State Court had ipso facto lost all control over the suit. The averment of the defendants, that they have a defence under the laws of the United States, is final as to removal, and the case is now in the United State Court, and any proceedings upon it in the State Court are null and void. For the preservation of that comity which should obtain between the two Courts, no unnecessary orders would be issued, but final judgment in a United States Court must and will be enforced on all parties coming within its jurisdiction."

It is understood Deputy Sheriff Moran, who it is alleged permitted the escape of George King, the convicted bond robber, on the way to Sing Sing, will be indicted by the Grand Jury, who now have his case under consideration.

It is reported S. N. Pike has purchased the block extending from Twenty-second to Twenty-third street, on the east side of Broadway, for one million dollars, and proposes to erect a theatre upon the ground.

The Printers' Union met to-night and ratified the terms agreed between their Committee and the employing printers.

A Committee of the Produce Exchange have endorsed Mr. Hatch's speech and sent petitions throughout the State urging the immediate enlargement of the Erie Canal.

Railroad Contract Ratified.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LAWRENCE, KS., April 6.—The contract authorized by a recent act of Congress for the transfer of a land grant and right of way between Denver and Cheyenne to the Denver Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Company was ratified to-day by the Board of Directors, and also by the stockholders of the Kansas Pacific Railway Company.

—The frost in Alabama for the last few nights has had a serious effect upon the crops. There is much complaint in consequence of the scarcity of labor and incessant rains, which have retarded farming operations.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The Republicans carried Keokuk, Iowa, at the municipal election held on Monday.

—The loss by a fire at Chatham, New York, Monday night, will reach $125,000, about one half of which is insured.

—The house of Raymond Hazelton, near Baraboo, Wis., was burned on Monday morning, and Miss Bumhama, a visitor, perished in the flames.

—The trial of Wm. P. Robinson, who stands accused of the murder of Senator McConnell, will probably be commenced at Jacksonville, Ill., this week.

—The Republicans of Cincinnati elected their whole ticket, except City Commissioner and three Councilmen, at the municipal election on Monday.

—At the election held in Kansas City, Monday, W. Hadley, Republican was elected Mayor. All the City Councilmen are Republicans.

—Advices from Europe state that Henri Jomini, the great military writer, born Switzerland in 1779, died at Passy a few days since, at the age of ninety-one years.

—At Montreal, last night a great billiard match for 1,200 points, between Dion and Foster, was progressing. At midnight the score stood: Dion 915, Foster 793.

—Spangler and Arnold, two of the pardoned conspirators, lately serving out their sentence at the Dry Tortugas, arrived at Baltimore yesterday, by the steamship Cuba.

—Another enthusiastic meeting was held on 'change at St. Louis, yesterday, to further consider the project introduced Monday night, to form a Stock Company to inaugurate a great grain trade at that city. Speeches were made, and the parties having the matter in charge were instructed to increase the stock of the Company to $200,000, which will be speedily taken. The Merchants' Exchange subscribed $20,000.

—The murder of McVay, by his employer, Devine, is creating considerable excitement in Chicago. It will be recollected that the Coroner's jury, after the manner of Dogberry, brought in a verdict of "unpremeditated murder." By reason of this verdict, Devine has petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus. He claims that "unpremeditated murder" means simply manslaughter, and that he is entitled to release on bail. On the other hand meetings of workingmen have been held and subscriptions collected for the prosecution of Devine.

—A special from Saint Paul says the ice in front of the city commenced moving on Sunday. A piece half a mile square fell down the stream about one hundred yards, carrying with it the steamers Chippewa Falls and Ellen Hardy and two government store boats. Monday noon another piece moved taking with it the wharf boat, which struck the government steamer Montana and carried it down a few yards, inflicting some damage on its bow. There are serious apprehensions expressed that if further movements take place before there is more broken, considerable damage will be done, not only to the above named boats, but also to the Lake Superior railway bridge, on which the ice is now pressing heavily. The river is very high and rising rapidly.

THE TREE.

From Herr Bjornson's "Arne."

The Tree's early leaf buds were bursting their brown;
"Shall I take them away?" said the Frost sweeping down.
"No; leave them alone
Till the blossoms have grown,"
Prayed the Tree, while he trembled from rootlet to crown.

The Tree bore his blossoms, and all the birds sung;
"Shall I take them away?" said the Wind as he sung.
"No; leave them alone
Till the berries have grown,"
Said the Tree, while his leaflets quivering hung.

The Tree bore his fruit in the midsummer glow;
Said the girl, "May I gather thy berries or no?"
"Yes, all thou canst see;
Take them; all are for thee,"
Said the Tree, while he bent down his laden boughs low.

She might well imitate the dignified and ladylike manner of Miss Topp."

A Man in a Peddler's Pack.

A short time since, just at dark, a peddler carrying a large pack, appeared at the door of a wealthy farmer in the town of Green Garden, in this county, and requested the privilege of remaining over night. The farmer being away from home, he was informed by the hired man that he could not stay. He then requested the privilege of leaving his pack until morning, as he was very tired and could not carry it further that night. This was granted, and the pack deposited in one corner of the sitting room. During the evening some of the females of the household had occasion to move it, and taking hold of it discovered that there was something suspicious about the contents. The hired man was called and upon taking hold of it, found that it contained a man. He quickly stepped into an adjoining room and returning with a revolver, motioned the family to stand aside, and at once proceeded to fire three shots into it. A piercing shriek issued from it, and on ripping off the outside covering a man with a large bowie knife and a revolver clinched in his hands, was found weltering in his blood. Two of the shots had proved fatal. The neighbors were alarmed, but no traces of the peddler who left the precious pack could be found. Thus by a mere accident, doubtless a shocking case of robbery, and perhaps murder, was prevented. It was doubtless a plot to rob the farmer, as it was known that he had a large sum of money in the house. An inquest was held over the body on the following morning, and the verdict was that the killing was justifiable homicide. No clue leading to the discovery of the name of the victim, or his accomplice, has as yet, been ascertained. Such summary justice is seldom meted out to the guilty.

DON PIATT has "interviewed" the President, and thus reports: "Now, if you ask me what I think of General Grant, I will tell you I do not know, I believe that he is honest, earnest, and in the great work he has before him, I hope, capable. He certainly walks out upon it alone. The old sort, who gather around the President, are intimate with and influence him, are not about Grant. I do not feel the influence in the atmosphere. It may be all right, but I do not know. I only hope it is."

A COUPLE of young men were exhibiting a patent churn in Canton, Ill., when a humorous old lady averred that the machine was a humbug. To disprove the assertion they offered to make butter within ten minutes. The old lady filled the churn, the patent right heroes set to work and spent two hours in perspiring and relieving each other, to no purpose, before the jocular old matron informed them that they were churning buttermilk.

THE editor of the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal says: "We do not vouch for the following item, which has been sent us: 'A surgeon in a distant place is said to have removed a tumor weighing sixty-three pounds, and thinks of presenting it to General Grant."

CRIME IN THE OIL REGIONS.

The Senate of Pennsylvania passed, on the 5th, a bill to provide a police-force for Petroleum Centre, one of the oil-towns of Venango county. The annexed statements, copied from the Buffalo Express, show the need for this provision, in which the speedy concurrence of the House is to be hoped for:

We published some time since, at the request of a certain clergyman of Petroleum Centre, Pa., a card warning the community against scoundrels who have been making a practice of inducing young girls in Buffalo, and elsewhere, to leave their homes, under promise of high wages as hotel waiters, and then forcing them to adopt a life of shame. The Titusville Herald gives further details of the operations of these scoundrels. It says that the town of Petroleum Centre, being without a local government, has become the headquarters of a horde of outcasts from society of both sexes, who have been driven from the large cities on account of their crimes or by their necessities. Pre-eminent among the crimes are those committed by the proprietors of two vile institutions known as free concert saloons or "free and easys," to which they have time and again brought respectable but needy young girls under the pretext of employing them as hotel waitresses, and placed them in such situations as to make their ruin inevitable unless they were unusually courageous, or received assistance from the citizens of the Center. The frequenters of these saloons, or "free and easys," are made up of the lowest class of "sports," gamblers, pimps, blacklegs and outcasts generally, with such other persons as may be attracted to them by curiosity or by a desire to join in the orgies which are kept up to a late hour nightly. The waitresses, or as they are called in the slang of the place, "beer slingers," are, in most cases, professional prostitutes. In these saloons every species of debauchery and vice flourishes under bad whisky and worse women, and attains a growth and vigor unknown outside of the slums of the great cities. It is to these places, reeking as they are with everything that is foul, and containing within them all the elements of bodily and spiritual ruin, that these men bring respectable but needy young girls from neighboring cities by some plausible story about waiting on tables in a hotel at high wages. But that is not the worst, for, when the girls are once within the saloons, everything but personal violence, (and for all we know, that too,) is used to keep them there, and if they succeed in getting away the lies and calumnies of their deceivers follow them wherever they may go.

It frequently occurs that when the girls arrive at the saloons they are without money, and consequently without means of returning from whence they came; and unless they receive assistance from outside the saloon, their ruin is only a question of a few hours. The paltry sums that these girls get per week are withheld from them if they show any desire to escape, and applied on real or imaginary charges which the proprietors of the saloons are never at a loss to find against them. Thus, every art is used to lure next to helpless young girls into the saloons, and then, to make of them professional prostitutes, to destroy them body and soul, every avenue of escape is barred. Within the last six weeks certainly no less than five respectable girls, and probably more, have been lured into saloons by false promises. Three of them effected their escape within a day or two after entering the saloons, and, by the aid of sympathizing citizens they obtained work in hotels and private houses in Petroleum Center. Four of the girls—including the two that are now in the saloons—were hired at an intelligence office in Buffalo, where the parents of the girls are now living.

The facts we have just given are the worst features of crime at Petroleum Centre, but they are by no means all. Attached either directly or indirectly, or as hangers on to the free and easy, and to other institutions equally as bad, and to the low groggeries and bagnios, are a horde of cut-throats and thieves who, together with a lot of gamblers of every grade, from the closely shaved sect down to the half shaved looking pitch-penny fellows, prey upon society. Keno is in its glory, and sweat-boards, dice, and cards are well patronized, and scarcely a day passes without some one telling a doleful story of losses the night previous. During the past ten days not less than four highway robberies and assaults have been committed, and in one case the victim was dangerously beaten. The state of affairs at the Centre has become intolerable. Debauchery and crime of every description are rampant. The parasites of society are banded together in one common brotherhood for the defence of themselves against the laws which they break with impunity, and which are wholly inadequate for the protection of life and property. These things have brought about a reign of terror, and it is with the utmost difficulty that the property owners of the place can be induced to take any prominent part in any action looking toward the suppression or punishment of crime. The deputy sheriff, the justice of the peace, and the constable at Petroleum Center do everything in their power to preserve peace and good order, but their efforts avail but little under the existing laws and the combinations of law-breakers. The citizens of the place and vicinity have petitioned the legislature to pass a bill authorizing the appointment of police commissioners and of any number of policemen the commissioners may deem necessary, the maintaining of a lock-up, and giving the commissioners the authority usually delegated to police courts. If the legislature will pass this bill, crime at Petroleum Center will receive a blow from which it will never recover, and the Center will become as orderly a town as any other in the State.

CHIMNIES.—Persons intending to build will find it to their advantage to observe the following: When building a chimney, put a quantity of salt into the mortar with which the intercourses of brick are laid, and the effect will be that there never will be an accumulation of soot in the chimney. The philosophy is thus stated: The salt in the portion of mortar which is exposed, absorbs moisture from the atmosphere every damp day. The soot thus becoming damp, falls down into the fireplace. It appears to be an English discovery, and is used with success in Canada.

MADAME ROSSINI says that she receives on an average thirty calls from strangers visiting Paris and desirous of seeing the cottage where the composer of the "Barber of Seville" resided. These visitors, she says, are a great annoyance to her, and she would prefer to be disturbed as little as possible.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 6, 1869.

There is a slight improvement to note in business, as the markets in a general way were more active to-day, and we are in hopes that once the weather becomes more settled and the roads get in better condition, that there will be a still further improvement. The fact that money is extremely tight has a tendency to retard business, but this obstacle is likely to be removed before long, and in that event we expect to see a much better demand for almost everything. Country merchants will then begin to lay in their spring and summer supplies, and our merchants will have all the orders they can fill. As we have repeatedly remarked, however, it looks as if the day for big margins had passed, and people will have to settle down to doing business in the old fashioned way.

APPLES—Are coming in more freely, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained, ranging from $4@6 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged, at 90@$1 per gallon.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand and we can report regular sales of prime to choice Roll at 45 to 48@50.

BEANS—In good supply and rather dull but unchanged; $3,50 to the trade, and $3,75 in a retail way.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Dull; 3@3¼.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at $18@$22.

CHEESE—Market almost bare; sales of New York Goshen at 24@25.

CARBON OIL—May be quoted at 30@31 for standard brands, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches dull but unchanged, with small sales of quarters at 14 and prime halves at 18@19. Apples 10@12, as to quality.

EGGS—Were in rather better supply to-day, and while there were some sales at 30, 28 may be regarded as the ruling quotation.

HAY—There is a continued good demand, in consequence of the fact that there is little or none coming in from the country, and prices are well sustained at $24@25 for prime tight pressed.

HOMINY—$5,75@6 per bbl.

HEMP—$225 per ton.

PROVISIONS—The demand is more active, and we can report regular sales at 14@14¼ for Shoulders; 16¾@17 for Ribbed, and 18@18¼ for Clear Sides, and 19½ for Sugar Cnred Hams. Steamed Lard, 19¼@19½, and kettle rendered, 20@20½. Mess Pork $31,50@$32,00.

POTATOES—In fair demand but unchanged, 75@80 per bushel.

GRAIN—There is little or nothing doing in Wheat, and prices are nominal at $1,48@1,50 for prime Red Winter. Oats in rather better demand, and a shade stronger; we now quote 65@66 on track, and 67@68 in store. Rye also, is in better demand, with sales at $1,40@1,43. Corn is dull although the supply is by no means large, and there is no disposition to make concessions in order to effect sales; we quote White at 70@72, and prime Yellow at 75@77. Sales of prime to choice Spring Barley, at $2,10@$2,15.

SEEDS—There is a very fair demand for Clover, with sales at $10@10,50, and Timothy at $3,50@3,75. Flaxseed quoted at $2,45@2,50.

SALT—Is quiet but steady, and is still quoted at $2 by the car load.

FEATHERS—A shade firmer, and we now quote live geese feathers at 80 to the trade, and the usual advance in a retail way.

FLOUR—The demand continues fair with a fair volume of business in the aggregate, though prices are unchanged. Spring Wheat brands $6,25 to 6,75@7. Winter Wheat $7,50@8. Rye Flour $7,00@7,25. The following are the Pearl Mill prices for their brands of flour made of the best wheat: Pearl Mill three star green brand, in barrels, $9,90 in sacks $9,60; double extra in barrels $9,00, and in sacks at $8,90; Pearl Mill family in barrels, $8,40, and in sacks at $8,00, Spring Wheat brands in barrels $7,30, and in sacks $7,00. The Pittsbnrgh City Mills prices are as follows: Choice White Winter Wheat Flour, in bbls, $9,30, and sacks $9,00, choice Red Winter Wheat Flour, in bbls, $7,75, and in sacks $7,50; choice Spring Wheat Flour, in bbls, $7,30, and in sacks, $7 per bbl.

WHISKY—Highwines very dull; may be quoted in a jobbing way at 91@92.

LARD Oil—Sales No. 1 at $1,60@1,65, and No. 2, at $1,28@1,30.

Markets by Telegraph.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Cotton is a shade lower; sales of 1,300 bales at 28½c for middling. Flour; receipts of 6,768 bbls; Flour is dull and heavy at 5@10c lower; sales of 5,300 bbls at $5,50@6 for superfine state and western; $6,05@6,60 for extra state; $6,05@7,10 for extra western; $7,20@8 for white wheat extra; $6,30@8,50 for R. H. O.; $7@8,50 for extra St. Louis; $9@12 for good to choice; do closing heavy. Rye flour quiet and heavy; sales of 200 bbls at $5@7. Cornmeal quiet. Whiskey more active; sales of 175 bbls at 92½@93½. The Receipts of Wheat were 367 bush; Wheat heavy and strongly in buyers favor; sales of 53,000 bushs at $1,41 for No. 2 spring in store; $1,44@1,45½ for do delivered; latter prices for very choice; $1,60¼ for amber Indiana; $2,08 for white Michigan. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily with scant nine feet in the channel, by the Monongahela marks. Weather yesterday mild and pleasant, though at times, there were indications of another change.

There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report. The Camelia from Nashville, and Maggie Hays from St. Louis are due.

Joel Bates, who has been hired to go mate on the Importer, left for St. Louis last night. The Importer will leave there shortly for the mountains.

The St. Marys cleared for Cincinnati with an excellent trip, including quite a number of passengers.

The Collossal departed for Fort Benton, with a fair trip, and—probably—engagements below.

The Wild Duck and barges depared for St. Louis, with a pretty full cargo.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving at noon. The Parkersburg packets appear to be doing a very good business.

The Julia No. 2 departed for Zanesville.

Business holds ont pretty well, taking everything into consideration. There is not so much complaining about the scarcity of freight as there is in regard to low prices. Nearly every boat leaving here has a full cargo, but they are obliged to take it at such extremely low figures, that it is only by very close financiering that they come out ahead or make both ends meet.

—The Ida Rees No. 2, Emma No. 3, and Mollie Ebert, all arrived at Cincinnati, during Saturday and Sunday.

—The Bellevernon from New Orleans to Pittsburgh, and Tom Farrow Pittsburgh to St. Louis, were at Cairo on Sunday.

—The President has signed the Paducah Railroad Bridge bill. It will be constructed with a clear channel span of 400 feet.

—Capt. J. C. Vanhook assumed command of the Great Republic on Saturday and she departed for New Orleans on Sunday.

—The new mountain steamer Nick Wall, Capt. Tom Poe, is announced to leave for Fort Benton ,on Thursday, without fail.

—The Glendale reshipped her Upper Mississippi freight on the Northern Line packets, and is now loading at St. Louis for Pittsburgh.

—The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, will leave for Nashville to-day without fail. She will be followed by the Camelia, Capt. Golding.

—It has been computed that the insurance companies lost, by the sinking of the Ruth, exclusive of the insurance on the boat, the sum of $120,000.

—The new Northern Line packet Minneapolis, Capt. T. B. Rhodes, it is expected, will be ready to take her departure for St. Paul in a few days.

—Three feet of snow fell at St. Paul on the 1st. The Mississippi had risen five feet at that point, yet the ice still held, but was expected to start at any moment.

—The Alice V., having had her machincry taken out at Madison, was to be towed to Evansville Saturday, where she will receive 20,000 sacks corn for New Orleans.

The Lena, sold at public sale on Friday, at Louisville, brought $1,475, and was purchased by parties in New Albany. The barge Nashville was bought by Capt. Moses Irwin, for $150.

—During the quarter, ending March 31st, 27 steamers were inspected at Louisville. Total tunnage, 8,883,70. During the same period, licenses were granted to 43 engineers and 44 pilots. Amount received, $1,867 98.

—A steamboat is being built in Morgan county, Indiana, to run as a trading and trapping vessel on the White and Wabash rivers. It will be thirty-nine feet long, nine feet wide, with a ten-horse power engine, and will draw fifteen inches.

—A Memphis paper of Friday says: The Argosy's trip was transferred to the Natoma, she leaving last night for Jacksonport with a fair cargo. The Argosy was turned over to Capt. Vandergrift, her owner, who arrived in the city yesterday to receive her.

—A Cairo telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial says: A young lady of high standing, Miss Mollie How, daughter of a widow lady, who keeps a boarding-house on Washington avenue, has been missing since dark last evening. An attachment has long existed between the young lady and pilot now on the David Watts, Mr. Geo. Clarke, which was firmly and strongly objected to by Mrs. Howe, and as the Watts passed our port last night, the most favorable solution of the mystery of her disappearance is that she eloped with her lover.

—The past month March, has been quite an unfortunate one for steamboatmen, as the following record will show: Of disasters, the number is 11, while the accidents to steamers foot up, in round numbers, 16. There has also been one collision, and two lives were lost upon that sad occasion. During the same month, which, when we reflect, makes the past look dark and gloomy to steamboat history, twelve prominent steamboatmen, from captain down, have passed into eternity. During the month one pilot had his license revoked, the charge against him being habitual drunkenness. Such is life, and the world still moves on, carrying with it all memories of the past.

—The famous R. E. Lee arrived at Cincinnati from New Orleans on Sunday. In speaking of her running the Cincinnati Commercial, says: She left the barracks above New Orleans on Monday at 2:30 P. M., arriving here yesterday at 7 A. M., making her time from Greenville Barracks to Cincinnati 5 days and 20½ hours. Capt. Brown informs us she came from the barracks to Vicksburg in 28 hours, and made the run from the mouth of Red River to Vicksburg in daylight. She came to Memphis in 2 days and 14 hours. She left Louisville Saturday 6:30 P. M., arriving here yesterday at 7 A. M., making her time from port to port 12½ hours. She lost considerable time, however, by bad weather.

THE NEW METHOD FOR THE PIANO FORTE, by WILLIAM MASON, (the distinguished pianist,) and E. S. HOADLY, is a great improvement upon all previous works, and is used and recommended as such by the best teachers. It preserves what was valuable in previous books, and adds many new features. It is the only modern Piano Forte Instructor published, presenting the technics of modern Piano Forte playing. It is easier to teach and learn from, and secures more rapid and thorough progress than any other book. No teacher of the Piano Forte can afford to do without its aid. It is the best book for beginners and the best for those who have made progress. Price $4. To facilitate its examination by teachers, we will, until July 1st, send a single copy to any teacher of the Piano Forte, by mail, postage paid, for half price, two dollars. An edition is published with European Fingering, and one with AMERICAN FINGERING. THE Republicans have a majority of forty on joint ballot in the Connecticut Legislature.

THE foreign appointments, for the Diplomatic and Consular service, are under Cabinet consideration, so that the nominations may be generally looked for this week.

GENERAL NEGLEY's bill for mustering out the supernumerary officers of the army would, when a law, retire about three hundred of those gentlemen, with an annual saving to the Treasury of some four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in pay and allowances.

ANDREW JOHNSON is as restless in Tennessee, and, after his lesser measure, as wickedly ambitious, as Milton depicts Lucifer to have been, after his fall. But his ambition will be equally fruitless. His harangues attract such crowds as will everywhere gather to be amused with fluent and reckless blackguardism, but the result will show that he has lost all his former effective influence over the popular judgment of Tennessee.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES decisively repudiates the action of the Indian Peace Commission of last summer—refusing to appropriate a dollar to carry out the engagements thus entered into with many of the Indian tribes. Yet the House is inclined to approve the reservation policy, which the Commission proposed to inaugurate, and to place a large sum in the hands of the President to be expended for the benefit of the Indians, according to his discretion.

THE advocates of blood for blood in Illinois charge, and not without some foundation, that since that State virtually repealed capital punishment there has been an appalling increase of murders, and insist it was a mistaken, false and misjudging philanthropy which led to the repeal of the death penalty. A late case happened in Chicago which goes to show that some people at least take advantage of the lenient law to commit crimes of blood. A murderer, after he had fired a fatal shot, walked coolly back and laying his revolver on the desk, exclaimed, "It makes no difference—there is no hanging in Illinois."

DESPERATE efforts are being made to interfere with the course of justice in the cases of EATON and TWITCHELL, the Philadelphia murderers, who are to be executed this week. In the Senate yesterday a public bill, authorizing the Governor to commute the death penalty to imprisonment for life, was read and passed, thus proposing to virtually abolish capital punishment. If such a bill be passed, and TWITCHELL and EASTON escape death through the provisions, we urge Governor GEARY to exercise the same clemency towards the poor, penniless negro who is under sentence of death in our jail. His crime of blood, perhaps, was no greater than those of the more influential murderers—but alas, the crime of poverty will hang him even if the others do escape.

You wont hear so much Democratic talk about appeals to the people, since the little circumstance which happened in Connecticut last Monday. Poor fellows! They will still prattle about the Indiana election; and try to persuade themselves, if they can't anybody else, that the re-election of the bolting Hoosier legislators was a magnificent proof that prejudices of race are still dear to the "popular heart." Popular fudge! Those bolters were chosen from strongly partizan districts in the first place, and would not have resigned unless they had seen a pretty sure thing in their own re-election. Let them try it on once, in Indiana, in any district which is reasonably close, and they would be apt to get a little Connecticut consolation.

As for Ohio, next October will show the XVth Article to be the winning card for the sincere friends of a true Democratic-Republican progress. Stick a pin there!

THE XVth ARTICLE IN CONNECTICUT.

The opposition have clamored tremendously against all propositions to submit this new Article to any Legislatures elected last year, before the new issue was discussed. "Let us have this matter submitted to the people," they demanded; and upon the popular vote, there is not a State of the North, where they have not prophesied its rejection. Everywhere, the friends of the new Article were to be routed, horse, foot and dragoons. Remember how the opposition journals have reiterated their boast that this is a white man's country, and that the people were with them now, as in other years, in the cast-prejudice, which has been the leading feature of modern Democracy.

Well, the new issue has been submitted to the people. In three States, elections have been held since the Article was laid before the legislntures, and we hope that our friends of the opposition are content with the result. New Hampshire and Michigan have sustained the last proposition of Liberty and Progress with their old-fashioned Republican zeal. These were States in whieh the doctrine, excluding a man from all the rights of a man because his skin was dark, has never enjoyed a conspicuous popularity. Then comes Connecticut—a State in which a "nigger" has been from time immemorial so much less than a man, that our Democratic apostles of exclusiveness and race-privilege have never doubted her hearty hatred for even the faintest approximation to the equality of men. They had fair grounds, too, for their reliance upon that State. It is only three years since this very question of equality at the ballot-boxes was submitted as a local issue to her electors, and they voted it down.

Even Connecticut responds at last to the great movement of the age, and she, too, on Monday last, by a square vote upon that express issue, ranges herself on the side of universal liberty and equality before the law. Says a dispatch to the New York World: "The Democrats have left the election go by default." Just so! Upon the question whether the never-by-the-Democracy-sufficiently-to-be-hated "nigger" should have the same political rights as the white man, even Connecticut "Democrats"—as bitter partizans as we have between the two oceans—have "let the election go by default;" they have not rallied in their might to the polls to brand the infamous proposition; they have not even rallied at all; they have gone back upon the traditional Democratic hate for a down-trodden race; they have turned a deaf ear to the frantic adjurations of their file-leaders; they have basely betrayed Democracy in the very house of its friends; not even the seductions of of office, or the eloquence of State officials who shuddered at the prospect of their dismissal from place, could bring the demoralized "Democracy" of Connecticut up to the scratch; they have defaulted on the officials, in their eloquence, and upon Democracy itself, and that "glorious State" (see Pittsburgh Post of a year ago) has delivered itself, now and forever, to the "nigger loving" Republicans and their principles, even to the new-blown infamy of the XVth Article. The Republicans retain their control of the Legislature; this alone our Democratic Jeremiahs would have accounted for by some story of a Republican gerrymander. Better than that, they have reformed the State Government, pitching the Democracy out and installing good Republicans in all the State offices, and by way of making the "default" a sure thing, have gained another Congressman. The gerrymander story won't answer any longer. It is a more terrible animal than that which has torn Democracy limb from limb and swallowed the best part of it forever. It is the sentiment of justice which ever beats in the great popular heart, and which, sooner or later, is sure to be triumphantly vindicated.

Let us hear more of these "popular appeals!" We rather like them, on the whole. The suggestion may have been Democratic, but the application is nevertheless salutary and profitable. To the opposition leaders at Harrisburg, and especially to those who soon assemble there to put a State ticket in nomination, we affectionately commend the lesson which these three States, and Connecticut most of all, have thus taught them. We invite them to make the same issue in Pennsylvania, if they have the stomach for it, and no matter under what titular hero, whose martial pretentions may be in the exact ratio to his past eight years devotion to peace, we promise them a Connecticut fight and a Connecticut verdict.

NEEDLESS DELAYS.

The disposition of the House to give the go-by to all questions of Southern pacification awakens a general and profound feeling of uneasiness throughout the country. The speech of Representative DAWES, on the Mississippi bill, in which he commended the expediency of remitting that State to a more protracted trial of military government, has not been acceptably received among citizens of patriotic and intelligent discernment. Even in the House itself there are indications that the postponement of the Mississippi bill, involving, as it did, similar delays for Virginia, Texas and Georgia, begins to be regarded as an unwise step.

These questions cannot be deferred, with advantage to the country, to the administration or to the Republican party. The case of Georgia cannot be neglected without a crying injustice to her own people, as well as to the Union at large. Virginia stands ready to vote upon her Constitution—as ready as she ever will be, with the unfortunate divisions in the local sentiment of the Republicans. These cannot be, and never will be, reconciled by themselves, and the plea for delay which contemplates such a possibility, is altogether delusive. The only possible adjustment of the schism in that State must be effected by Congress, and the sooner we have the needful measures to that end, the better. Otherwise, Congress will, in December, find the Virginia factions farther apart than they are to-day, and still less likely to acquiesce cheerfully in any adjustment by the superior Federal authority. As to that State, it is only requisite that Congress should hold her squarely up to the same policy which has pacified so many of her sister-States, and do that at once.

Congress ought not to adjourn without taking the simplest, most direct, and most decisive order for the settlement of all these Southern questions, or, failing that, to put the responsibility of longer delays upon the populations whom it will concern. We have upheld military government as long as the position of State affairs in the South seemed to require it. We uphold it still, when and where necessary, but not for one moment longer than such necessity shall exist. We concur heartily in the annexed suggestions, on that head, in the Philadelphia North American:

We must plainly say here that we have no sort of confidence in military autocracy, and have no regard for any of the reasons or excuses given for it. We believe that not a few of these pretences are set up to hide the personal schemes of civilians, and, whether so or not, the knowledge and judgment of most of these commanders concerning civil affairs are lamentably deficient. Congressmen have made a sad blunder in postponing reconstruction for another year, and the people should let them know it.

THE RHODE ISLAND SENATOR.

The Providence Journal editorially referred to the second speech of Senator SPRAGUE as follows:

Senator Sprague made another speech in the Senate yesterday, in which he reiterated views previously expressed, and deprecated the prevalent low tone of public morals in society as well as in politics. The Senator's intense application to his official duties and to his extensive private interests, we fear causes him to take too gloomy a view of the general situation.

For this judicious and kindly mention, that high-minded statesman expressed his acknowledgments in the following letter:

To the Editor of the Journal, Providence, Rhode Island:

SIR:—I am in receipt of a slip from your paper of the 25th, referring to me. The most outrageous insinuation that you set forth, will be answered by me in my place in the Senate. As you reflect the sentiments, and are tied in servitude to the overshadowing power that attempted to control both the politics and public sentiments of Rhode Island, I shall give to that influence the setting forth it is entitled to. As I strike directly at the power of which you are the lickspittle, you and those who control you, will find I am indeed terribly in earnest. Take, therefore, as you now have, the position in public that I have long known was your private sentiment. Your present is a far more honorable, if honor belongs to your nature, than your past dastardly and cowardly one has been. I am, &c.,

W. SPRAGUE.

This letter is in the orator's happiest vein. It should be printed, together with the Journal's paragraph, upon the fly-leaf of the million pamphlet copies of his three speeches, which are about to be issued under Democratic auspices, but at the Senator's expense. The latter continues to deny that either wine, whiskey, or woman have had any share in the influences by which he has been actuated. Oh! SPRAGUE!

The Great Philadelphia Robbery.

How a million dollars were taken, is explained, in the Post, as follows:

An investigation proved that the burglars had unlocked the Twelfth street door, as well as the door into the yard, by false keys, and had "jimmied" the rear window of the Saving Fund. Then they attacked a Lillie safe, one of the largest size, and built into the wall. Their proceedings in this work appear to have been as methodical as the occasion demanded. They first screwed a large piece of joist perpendicularly upon the floor, securing it by strap hinges, and further bracing it by a stout piece of walnut six feet long. This timber was brought with them into the building, which shows that their work had been thoroughly planned. Using the joice for a fulcrum, with a beautifully constructed tool, evidently made for the purpose, they unscrewed the "combination" from the safe and knocked off the handle. They then bored a five-eighth-inch hole with a drill alongside of the lock and slipped the bolts, forcing the door open. Then they broke the lock off the inside door with the jimmy and effected an entrance to the safe. A car used by the institution to carry books in and out on a railway was run out, and the burglars went deliberately at work to break open boxes and remove valuables. They left a quart bottle of alcohol, flask of powder, wick and safety fuse behind.

The very worst feature of the whole affair is that the depositors in the Saving Fund are mainly of the poorer classes, who cannot afford to lose their money. Poor girls at service, day laborers, coachmen, waiters and such humble folks had faith in this Saving Fund, as they well might have had, and left with it, confident of its security, their hard-earned savings. This robbery will be a terrible blow to many a toiling, honest soul.

CAPTAIN MONCRIEFF'S invention for mounting heavy artillery has been accepted by the British Government, who pay him $5,000 per annum while employed in superinteuding its introduction, and $25,000 at the end of his service, and all expenses for models and experiments.

THE TWITCHELL CONFESSION.

Two convicted murderers, TWITCHELL and EATON, will be executed at Philadelphia to-morrow. The attempt of the former, by a sham confession, to cast the odium of his crime upon his wife, meets an universal discredit. A North American reporter makes the annexed interesting statement of the circumstances relating to that confession:

Rev. Mr. Bringhurst is the pastor of All Saints' (Episcopal) Church. The Twitchells and Mrs. Hill, when they attended any church, went there, but Mr. Bringhurst had no acquaintance with them. When incarcerated on the charge of murder, George Twitchell sent for him. For more than seventy days he has not let twenty-four hours pass by without a visit to Twitchell's cell. He baptised him in the prison, and believed that he had prepared him for death. Mr. Bringhurst is one of that class of unsuspecting, guileless gentlemen who would very probably mistake a horse thief, if traveling with him in a railroad car, for a student of divinity, or a gentleman who does business with "the little joker" for a missionary just returned from Hindostan. Mr. Bringhurst received Twitchell's acknowledgment, as above, with great surprise. Twitchell begged that it should be suppressed until after his execution, but Mr. Bringhurst refused to receive it upon any such terms. The reverend gentleman himself produced it for publication on Saturday last.

The heart of George Twitchell opened on Friday when, after an absence of five days, he became satisfied that Camilla had forsaken him. He was led to believe that she was too ill to visit him, and was apprehensive accordingly. Unable to lie, and unwilling to prevaricate, Mr. Bringhurst told him that his wife was not sick, and was in the city. The lady requested Mr. Bringhurst to ask George where he would like, after he was hung, that his body should lie. Rev. Mr. Bringhurst reiterates his statement that she so asked him.

Mrs Twitchell has always manifested exceeding trepidation at the idea of the reporters witnessing the execution of her husband and taking notes of the confession he might make. The report that she fled the city on Saturday is doubtful, unless the hour was late, as she was in consultation with Mr. O'Byrne during the morning. Mr. Bringhurst in the case is sorely puzzled. Anterior to this confession he believed in the sincerity of Twitchell's statements; he now knows not where he can cast the anchor of hope. So far as the pulse of public opinion can be felt by the reporter of a newspaper, no one believes any more of the confession of the unfortunate matricide than that he was cognizant of her murder—but before, not after, the fact.

The application to Governor Geary last Thursday for a reprieve has been considered and refused; the proceedings before the national Supreme Court are regarded as a farce. It is sadly certain that on Thursday the doomed man will pay the mortal penalty of the law.

LETTER FROM HARRISBURG.

The Appropriation Bill in the Senate—Cutting Down Expenses.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, April 5, 1869.

The appropriation bill has been up in the Senate all week, and has been the cause of considerable excitement. Mr. Wallace led off, on the Democratic side, in a studied, but very fair speech, in which he showed that the expenses of the State government were steadily increasing, and in a ratio more than commensurate with the growth of the State. He produced statistics to show that, since 1865, when the price of living was higher than now, salaries had been steadily augmenting, and the cost of every department increasing. He did not lay the blame of this on the dominant party. The votes by which this increase was carried came from both sides, and one was as much to blame as the other. But it was time to put a check to this, and the party in power would be held responsible if the increase were not checked and expenses brought back to the standard of 1865. The Republican Senators had the power to do it, and they would have his aid in making a stand and setting a face of flint against this steady tendency to extravagance.

It was plain, from this speech, that the Democratic Senators had resolved to make what capital they could for their party by voting for economy, and that the responsibility was thus thrown upon the Republicans of meeting them half way or of taking all the consequences of the cry of "extravagance" that would in that event be raised against them.

As soon as Mr. Wallace sat down, Mr. Errett took the floor and expressed his hearty concurrence in all that had been said by Mr. W. in favor of economy. It had proved an easy thing to raise salaries; it would prove a very difficult thing to resist the personal appeals that would be made against reducing them. For one, he had determined to turn a cold ear to all these appeals, and to exclude all personal considerations in legislating for the Commonwealth. He was glad to hear he would have Democratic help; and he assured gentlemen on that side of the chamber that, if they stood up to the programme of the Senator from Clearfield, enough Republicans would be found to carry every measure of Reform that might be proposed. But he wanted fair play in this. He would sink the partisan, and join with others in deciding these questions as Pennsylvanians; but he wanted deeds as well as words. He did not wish to hear Democratic Senators making speeches in favor of Economy, for party effect, and then voting Extravagance. It was the votes that would tell, not the speeches; and he had no doubt the Republican Senators would join with them in deciding the matters at stake in the interests of the State, instead of the interests of party or of individuals.

Mr. White followed in the same strain, and then the fight commenced on the second section, fixing the salaries of State offices. An effort to reduce the salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth from $3,500 to $3,000 failed, the Democratic Senators generally going against it; but a motion to cut down that of the Deputy Secretary from $2,250 to $2,000 prevailed, as did also the effort to reduce the Adjutant General from $2,500 to $1,500, and the Governor's private Secretary from $2,000 to $1,500, and to cut off the appropriation for an extra clerk in the Governor's department. The Adjutant General's force of clerks was cut down from four to two, the State historian's office was abolished, (self at $2,000, and three clerks at $1,400 each,) the force on the public grounds reduced from five to two, the force at the Arsenal discontinued, and the State Librarian reduced from $1,000 to $500.

Besides this, the force in the Superintendent of Soldiers' Orphans was cut down from two to one, and $300 for advertising struck out, the extra pay of $300 to each of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, $1,000 for ice house and $500 for lamp posts in the public grounds, $5,000 for Schools of Design, $500 for dedicating Mexican monument, $3,600 for New Brighton retreat, $1,500 extra to contractor on Governor's mansion, and $10,000 to build house for Rothermel's painting of the battle of Gettysburg, were all struck out, along with $5,000 for Penn Widow's Asylum, and no new appropriations were put in, except $2,500 for Union Temporary Home, Philadelphia, for soldiers' orphans. The appropriations for Northern Home and St. John's Orphan Asylum were reduced from $10,000 each to $5,000 each, the latter being for maintenance of soldiers' orphans.

A clause was also inserted requiring the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to anticipate the maturity of $800,000 of the public debt, and pay it off.

The bill now goes to a Committee of Conference, the House having non-concurred generally in the Senate's amendment. The probability is that the Committee will recommend a concurrence in most of the Senate's amendments.

Most of the Republican Senators voted for every motion looking to economy; and when Mr. Lowry moved to insert $2,500 for the Sisters of Charity at Titusville, whose building for orphans was lately burned down, the most of them, regarding this as the entering wedge to a a series of local appropriations that would take hundreds of thousands out of the Treasury, voted against it and defeated it. This was done with much reluctance, the claim being a very strong one, on the ground of sympathy; but the determination was to vote the State's money to none but State purposes and State charities, and the defeat of this, the strongest of all merely local claims, operated to prevent the making of any motion for any other local charity.

The Senators on the Republican side who stood up resolutely for strict economy in every department were Messrs. Graham, Billingfelt, Errett, White and Olmsted; Mr. Fisher, Mr. Kerr, Mr. Brown, of Mercer, Mr. Stinson, Mr. Coleman and Mr Taylor voted with them on most of the questions that arose, but occasionally voted against them. Altogether, however, the Republican Senators stood up for economy with praiseworthy energy, and the consequence is seen in the fact that this bill is the smallest appropriation bill, in the aggregate, that has been passed for several years.

Under this bill, the item for legislative expenses, which last year cost $137,000, is cut down more than half, and the expenses of the State government brought back, as far as possible, to the standard of 1865, and the strong tendency to an increased expenditure in the several departments thoroughly checked. If this can be carried out and adhered to, the people of the Stute may reasonably look forward to an early extinguishment of the public debt and a consequent readjustment, a few years hence, of taxation upon a lighter and fairer basis. B.

Washington Items.

All of the Internal Revenue appointments have, so far, been made by Mr. Delano, without the interference of Secretary Boutwell or the President.

The Supreme Court will adjourn next week, to the first Monday in October. It has been agreed that the case involving the constitutionality of the legal tender act shall go over to the fall term for settlement. Among the recent decisions was one affirming the right of cities to tax.

It is rumored by General Longstreet's friends, that he will hold the place for only a short time, and should Gen. Sickles decline the Mexican mission, Longstreet will be nominated for that place.

Hon. John Cessna, who distingulshed himself in the House on Friday, by his masterly handling of Mr. Covode's case, has prepared a report in favor of the Hon. Leonard Myers' right to the seat now held by Mr. Moffet. The Election Committee will no doubt adopt this view to-morrow. Mr. Cessna bids fair early to take rank at the head of the House as a debater and party leader.

A Fashionable Wedding.

Pittsburgh has had her grand wedding. Before it all the mis-called fashionable weddings which have from time to time marked the history of our local society, must fade into insignificance and take rank away down in the list of ordinary affairs. The occasion had long formed the interesting and all absorbing theme of conversation in the higher circles, and the interest in it became all the more intense when it was announced that the intended bride had been baptized into the pale of the Catholic faith, and was to be accorded a wedding ceremony as gorgeous and pompous as that Church could bestow even to royal personages. The circulation of cards, the announcement in the GAZETTE and that of the still more potent advertiser, Dame Gossip, all combined to draw together, yesterday morning, in St. Paul's Cathedral, the largest and most fashionable assemblage we have ever seen under one roof. The commodious structure, capable of containing five thousand persons, was filled to its utmost capacity, every seat being occupied and the aisles and spacious standings were crowded with curious persons overlooking each others heads and shoulders to catch a glimpse of the altar. Elegant dress was observable on all sides, and in some instances, the styles were of the most costly and elaborate description.

At half past ten o'clock the great organ pealed forth a grand march and the Bishop, attended by a large number of clerical attendants, deacons, sub-deacons and altar boys, all clad in the rich robes peculiar to the church, marched from the sacristy to the altar and took place for the celebration of the important ceremonies of matrimony and Pontificial High Mass. Simultaneously the bridal party entered and marched up the middle aisle to the alter, within whose railing they were admitted—a privilege rarely bestowed to those not entitled to place therein. The ceremony, solemn and impressive enough, but nearly all Latin to those in attendance, was then performed by Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, who was arrayed in the gorgeous attire of his high church office. A brief address was delivered to the happy couple "made one" by the Bishop, after which the grand High Mass was celebrated. The choir was up to the usual standard, and contributed no little to the occasion, rendering parts of several famous masses in exquisite style. At twelve the ceremony ended, and after a few congratulations were extended the bride and groom, the vast throng of spectators, the majority of whom were Protestants, and the bridal party took their departure.

The bride was Mrs. Margarette Carr, the accomplished daughter of R. T. Kennedy, Esq., of Allegheny, and the groom Mr. J. Kane, a wealthy gentleman of Memphis, Tenn. They were attended by a bridesmaid and bridegroom. The bride wore a bright lavender moire antique dress, elaborately trimmed and made full with long trail, white slippers, a little white lace bonnet and a costly lace shawl. The bridesmaid wore a green moire antique dress, looped and fastened with roses, green satin slippers and white lace shawl. The happy couple left on an early train for an extended bridal tour.

Somebody to Blame.

Monday evening, about six o'clock, John Tommelty, who has been at the City Farm for several years, having come to the city a few days since, was arrested and taken to the lock-up, and at the Mayor's Court yesterday morning (the fact of Tommelty having been an inmate of the City Farm Home having been ascertained) it was directed that Mr. Fortune be notified that he was in the lock-up. Mr. Fortune, it appears, did not receive the notice, and at three o'clock the old man was still in the cell, having remained there over twenty hours without anything to eat. We do not know who is to blame in the matter, but it is quite evident that some one was at fault in keeping that old man in such a miserable place without anything to eat. Poverty, although a great misfortune and a great inconvenience, is no crime, and why a man under such circumstances should be treated as a criminal we are unable to see.

Truck Disposed Of.

At the last meeting of City Councils, the Committee on Engines and Hose were empowered to locate the new Hook and Ladder truck at any point which they deemed advisable. In accordance with this resolution the Committee instructed Chief Engineer Hare to place the truck in the Neptune Engine House, and employ fonr men to take charge of it, which was done.

The Neptune Company, we are informed, has been disbanded, the steamer having been turned over to the agent of the Amoskeag Company in this city, Mr. R. C. Elliott, there being a balance due on it to that Company of something over fifteen hundred dollars. Negotiations are now in progress, however, toward the payment of the debt by the city, which if successful will place the steamer at the disposal of Councils.

GOTTSCHALK has secluded himself momentarily from the world, in a small hamlet on the banks of the Rio de la Plata, not many miles from Buenos Ayres, where his lite is devoted to study and composition. During his absence from the United States he has produced a symphony for orchestra, a triumphal march; also a tarantella for piano and orchestra.

—Rev. Daniel Lord, of Bridgeport, Conn., has accepted the call of the Calvary Presbyterian Church of Chicago to become its pastor. His salary will be five thousand dollars a year.

—James F. Ballantyne, editor of the Chicago Republican, was taken with a violent hemorrhage of the lungs at Washington a few days since. He has been taken home and is in a very critical condition.

—The case of the Massachusetts man, fined in Baltimore as a non-resident peddler without license, has been taken to the Court of Appeals of the State of Maryland.

A SIGNIFICANT LETTER.

LOUISVILLE, March 22d, 1869.—Find enclosed P. O. order for * * * which you will please place to my credit, and send immediately half a gross of Blood Searcher, and a full supply of circulars.

The demand for your medicine is gradually increasing, and I believe will eventually take the place of other similar preparations, now being extensively advertised throughout Kentucky and the Southern States, but there is little advertising needed that will reach the masses. Circulars will do very well in the locality where the Blood Searcher is sold, but the greater number are only to be reached through the medium of a popular newspaper, a few insertions is all that is required. Let the people of Kentucky once know that DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER can be had at the Medicine and Toilet Depot, Louisville, Kentucky, and I guarantee a profitable return. I have an extensive acquaintance throughout Kentucky and the South, and though I claim not to be an exception to the generality of my fellows, I flatter myself that the name of W. W. WILLIAMS, as Agent for the Blood Searcher, will at least not lesson the demand, but on the contrary, will induce many to take hold of it, and when they have done so it will matter very little who is the Agent, or where it comes from, DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER will be the medicine they have tested and what they will want. The Blood Searcher is doing good work in this locality: There are numbers to whom I have recommended it for dyspepsia, and as a general Tonic, and in every case I have had a good report. There is a gentleman in business opposite my store who has been confined to his room since July last with scrofula, a physician attending every day, and getting no better. Soon after I received your first consignment I sent him one of your circulars, but it was som etime before I heard from him, and not until I sent Mr. Boyd over to see him did he conclude to try it. He is now getting well, and regrets that he did not adopt the remedy sooner. His case was as bad if not worse than that of Mr. Boyd, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the list of cures. Allow me to congratulate you on your removal to your new store, with the hope that it it will in no way detract from your former prosperity. Respectfully,

W. W. WILLIAMS.

To DR. KEYSER, Pittsburgh, Pa.

DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER IS SOLD BY THE GROSS, DOZEN OR SINGLE BOTTLE, AT HIS NEW MEDICINE STORE, No. 67 LIBERTY STRFET, ONE DOOR FROM SIXTH. CONSULTING ROOMS, No. 120 PENN STREET.

THE TRUE MEDICAL DOCTRINE.

Nature, when struggling with disease, indicates unmistakably the kind of assistance she requires. In cases of nervous weakness and general debility, the feeble pulse, the lack-lustre eye, the attenuated frame, the flaccid muscles, the melancholy visage, inform us as plainly as if each organ had a tongue, that a medicated stimulant is needed. It does not require the aid of a medical education to understand this dumb appeal for new vigor, from an exhausted system. Every reader of these lines can comprehend it just as well as the graduate of a physicians' college. Let not this demand of enfeebled natur be neglected. Respond to it promptly by commencing a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a preparation uniting, in their highest excellence, the properties of a STIMULANT, an INVIGORANT, and an ALTERATIVE. Before three days have elapsed, from the taking of the first dose, a marked beneficial change will be manifest in the bodily and mental condition of the patient. The pulse will be stronger and more regular, the eye will begin to lose its dull expression, the muscular and nervous systems to recover their tension, and the spirits to improve. Persevere, and a complete revivification of the depressed animal and mental powers is certain. In cases of dyspepsia and biliousness, the same salutary results will be obtained. The appetite will revive, the sallowness of the skin disappear, and all the distressing symptoms which accompany disorders of the stomach and liver, will rapidly subside. The sudden changes of spring often intensifies these complaints by checking the perspiratory action, by which so much morbid matter is evaporated through the pores of the body, and therefore the BITTERS are especially useful to the dyspeptic and bilious at this season.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 6, 1869.

Money is still very scarce and not to be had except at high rates of interest. Nevertheless the gold market advanced suddenly to 131⅞, but closed at 131⅝ very strong. The reports spread that the May interest would be anticipated is a canard, used for speculative purposes. The Secretary of the Treasury, although contemplating, it has not been officially announced.

Government bonds suddenly declined to-day about one-fourth per cent. for the old bonds, and seven-eighths per cent. for the later issues. The market closed strong and higher last night than during any time of the day, and bonds being higher in Europe, it was generally believed that a further rise would take place to-day. The still existing stringency in the money market keeps dealers from buying, and even bona fide investors are more desirous to have their new investments at a lower quotation. The main cause of the decline, however, is to be looked for in the selling out of the foreign houses, who use their means in carrying stocks and care little to submit to such enormous rates of interest as they were compelled to pay during the last few days.

Stocks are very strong and are manipulated by cliques who have cheap money, while those stocks left alone are also firmly held.

Local securities are heavy, but more inquired for at the decline. Business is is reviving.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 131¾; Silver, 125; Eighty-one's, 115⅜; Five Twenties, 1862, 118¾, do 1864, 114⅜; do 1865, 116¼; do 1865, Consols, 113¼; do 1867, ——; do 1868, ——; Ten Forties, ——; New York Central, 64⅛; Erie, ——; Reading, 92⅜; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 27; Ohio & Mississippi, 33⅜; Michigan Southern, 96⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 90¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 31; Chicago & North-Western, 84½; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 95⅝; Adams Express Company, 59¾; Merchants Union Express, 17¼; Pacific Mail, 93¾; Western Union Telegraph Company, 41¼; Gregory, 2,80; Quartz Hill, 1,20; Corydon, —; Smith & Parmlee, 2,40; W. [By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 6, 1868.

Money continues stringent, and high rates for call loans is still the main feature in financial circles. The drain upon the banks for currency for New England and the interior of this State, and some Western cities, has again commenced, and about $400,000 was shipped to-day. Foreign bankers are also borrowers in considerable amounts. The rates paid to-day on call were 1-16@⅛ per cent. per day on Governments, and 1-16@¼ per cent. on Stocks, in addition to the legal rates in currency. The supply in Commercial Paper is large, and rates range from 10 to 15 per cent. Sterling dull and nominally firm at 8⅛@8¼ per cent. Gold is somewhat stronger on the reports that a regiment of soldiers had been ordered to Key West, and two Iron-clads to Cuba, price [rising to 131⅞; the closing rates, however, were 131⅝. The rates paid for carrying were 5, 4½. 4,6, 3 and 2 per cent. flat. Clearances to-day $42,000,000.

Governments were hammered during the morning Board to make low buying prices, and '62s were at one time down to 118, and '67s to 113¼ cash, but from these prices they rallied and advanced, closing firm. Coupons of' 81, 115⅝@115¾; do. '62, 118½@118⅝; do. '64, 114½@114⅝; do. '65, 116⅜@116⅝; new do., 113⅝@113½; do. '67, 113¼@113⅜; do. '68, 113¼@114; 10-40s, 105⅛@105¼.

State Bonds dull. Missouris, 87¼; Old Tennessees, 66; New 65@65¼; North Carolinas, 53@53¼; Virginias, 58¾.

Stocks opened strong and so continued until after the first board, when they became heavy and lower; subsequently the market again become strong and advanced, with New York Central as the feature, while Northwestern, Ft. Wayne and Western Union were noticeably strong; Northwestern preferred sold up to 96, on a further shipment of 3,000 shares to London. The market closed quiet but steady.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 6, 1869.

The oil market was again very quiet to-day, with next to nothing done in the way of business, while compared with yesterday prices are fully half a cent lower. The fact that the production for March shows a slight increase over that of the month preceeding, has given renewed confidence to those who have been and are still contending for lower prices, and they now predict that the month of April will show a larger increase over that of March, basing their argument on the fact that the weather in April is much more favorable for development than that of March; and this is generally conceded. It is also argued that even with the present production, unless the exports to Europe are largely increased, stocks must of necessity accumulate, and with an accumulation of stocks, prices must of necessity rule lower. There is still another point brought forward, and it is one which is worthy of notice, and that is: fifty-three and a half francs in Antwerp is only considered equal to twenty-nine cents in New York, and it is contended, therefore, that unless there is an advance there or a decline here, exporters can not and will not enter the field. Now it should be borne in mind that these are some of the strong points brought to bear by those who want lower prices, and we give them for what they are worth.

CRUDE—The market compared with yesterday is dull and weak, and prices are off fully half a cent both for present and future delivery. Spot oil and seller's option until July, which were held yesterday at 15½, were offered freely this afternoon at 15 without finding buyers. The only sale reported was 1000 each, May and June at 15½—the same delivery yesterday was quoted at 16. It was rumored that there had been offers to sell in the after part of the day at 14½@14¾, but it was not generally believed, and we give 15 cents as the standard price for spot or seller until July.

REFINED—The only sale reported was 500 bbls for the last half of April at 32,—the same delivery sold yesterday at 32½. Spot oil 31@31¼. Offer to sell a line running from May to September at 36, and July to December may be quoted at 36½. April to September, nominal at 35.

HORRIBLE.

Shocking Case—How Brutal Human Beings can be—Dreadful Treatment of a Little Girl by her Adopted Parents.

We lay before our readers this morning the testimony adduced at a hearing on Monday afternoon, before Mayor Brush.

In the case of Mena Weesner vs. Andrew and Elizabeth Malsch, on the charge of mal-treatment. The girl is aged about eighteen, and has been living with the defendants for a number of years. They formerly resided in what is known as "Goosetown," in the Fourteenth ward, but latterly they have resided in Birmingham. Some of the facts of the case were brought to the notice of Justice Lipp of the borough, and through him the prosecution was entered upon. At the hour named there was a large number of persons present, quite a number being women. These were drawn together by a personal interest in the case, from knowledge of the parties. The girl is quite small in stature, a poor and m serable looking and her person shows undoubted evidence of fearful abuse and wrong.

The information sets forth as follows: That on the 14th day of March, 1869, in the borough of Birmingham, Allegheny county, a certain Andrew Malsch and Elizabeth Malsch did beat, wound and ill-treat said deponant by holding her hands on a hot stove and burning them severely, and mal-treating said complainant at different times by whipping her and hanging her by the neck and exposing said deponent's person, and treating her most cruelly. Complainant therefore, &c.

Signed, MENA WEESNER.

G. L. B. Fetterman, Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and the witnesses were examined by him and Mayor Brush. Below we give the testimony.

A TALE OF HORROR.

Mena Weesner sworn: Am about 18 years of age; don't know if my parents are living; have been 14 years with Mr. and Mrs. Malsch; they lived in Pitt township and about six months ago they removed to Birmingham; left them about two weeks ago; they have treated me dreadfully and a knife and poker have been used upon me; they have hung me up by the neck; Mrs. Malsch did it; she tied my hands and feet and threw me in the corner behind the door: she thrust a warm poker in my mouth and knocked my front teeth out, (the absence of the teeth was shown); this scar on my forehead is from a lick with a tumbler from Mrs. Malsch; it bled a great deal and she tied it up with a rag dipped in vinegar; she cut me on the shoulder with a table knife, and punched me in the sides with a poker; she would strike me with anything she had in her hand or that was near.

Malsch would strike my head against the wall when he was drunk; he put my hands on the hot stove about two weeks ago and held them; he said my fingers were too long and he wanted to burn them off; they were blistered; he was not drunk then; every year after the first two, the treatment of me grew worse; I ran off once and he threatened to break my head on the first house when he caught me; he works at Kline's shop and so do I; he gets three dollars and a half per week for my work. The day I left he was going to beat me when he came home; Mr. McCoy found me on a sand boat at the river. I was going to drown myself, as I did not want to live in this world; I could not stand the beating; have not had clothing; I went to school one year at the Eighth Ward Schoolhouse when I was about twelve years of age; I was compelled to get coal and when I could not get it I was beaten; I had then to steal it; I went out for coal on every evening when I came home, as they did not buy any. I had to get coal as late as ten, eleven and twelve o'clock at night; she threatend that if I did not get it; I should not have any bread; he would be drunk, and out late at night, and I had to go to the taverns to see where he was.

They have repeatedly exposed my person. Malsch has pulled my clothes over my head and beat me; she would take me between her knees and beat me after pulling up my clothes, while a young man held me; she would scratch my person. (The witness gave the names of two young men, relatives of the family, who were present on such occasions.) Mrs. Malsch has whipped me on the bare skin with a strap; Mrs. Malsch once dragged me on the floor by the hair; she would tie me and keep me laying on the floor for half a day at a time; sometimes I got no breakfast when I went to work; she would send me a piece of bread to the shop; they have six of their own children, but I did nearly all of the work; the rope with which they hung me was fastened to the cupboard door; I was hung up till I was black in the face; a little girl named Kidderich saw this; Mrs. Malsch once threw hot coffee down my breast; she stretched my mouth with her fingers, once, to my ears; my nose was flattened as it is by her pounding me with her fist; my face was burned by her, and my hands and arms cut with a knife.

THE STORY CORROBORATED.

Mrs. Regina Drautfelter, who resided very near Malsch, on Gist street, in the Fourteenth ward, was the next witness called. She was not subpœnaed, but learning of the case through the papers she came voluntarily. She testified as follows: Know these parties; they lived near me on Gist street; they left there two years ago next June; heard they moved on the Minersville road; Mrs. Malsch sent the girl day and night to the glass house and coke ovens to get coal, which they used; if she did not bring it they would kick her and beat her with the poker; Mrs. M. said once if she did not bring it, she would throw her into the cellar and then say she had fallen in and broke her neck; I could see through their window sometimes, and often saw Malsch beat her; when they eat, the girl did not get at the table but was put behind the door; she never went to church but was always at work; never knew her to be a bad girl; have seen the girl with her face all scratched; she told me they did it; have seen Mrs. Malsch beat her with a poker; saw Mrs. M. with a knife in her hand chasing her; saw the girl after her arm was cut; Mrs. Malsch told me the girl did it herself when cutting meat; went with the girl to Selbert's store and she told me Mrs. M. did it; the neighbors all talked of the bad treatment of the girl; she was turned out one night and we took her in.

Catharine Meisner, sworn—Live in Edwards alley, Birmingham; we have the same yard with Malsch's; they had been there four or five months; soon after they came noticed the difference in the treatment of the children; none of the neighbors associated with the Malsch's; the girl Mena would go to work in the morning and return in the evening; before she would have time to warm in the cold weather, she would take the buckets and go for coal: she was entirely insufficiently clad, and her stockings and shoes were almost worthless; saw Mrs. M. have her by the hair once; the girl would often run out; she disappeared on a Friday; I was afraid she had been killed then; a neighbor and I went to the Burgess about her; Malsch reported he had found her; the girl would go with the buckets for coal at night; they never bought any coal.

Mrs. Gross, also a neighbor in Birmingham, testified that she saw the girl in the yard bleeding at the neck. Mena said Mrs. M. scratched her. Witness heard the girl coming and going for coal at all hours of the night. She worked all day and then had to go out for coal; she had bad shoes and clothing.

Mrs. Eliza Gross testified that she noticed the difference of the treatment of the children as soon as the family came there; Mena was half clothed; the bad treatment of the girl was talked of among the neighbors, but they feared Mrs. Malsch, who was very violent; she threatened to knock witness' brains out once.

RESCUED FROM SUICIDE.

Thomas McCoy, sworn: Am an engineer and live on Bingham street, Birmingham; on the 19th of March last, in the afternoon, on going to the mill saw the girl on a sand boat at the river; her movements made me suspicious that all was not right; went to her and brought her to the engine room; she was dirty and cold; had her warm herself and gave her water to wash; then questioned her and she told me of her bad treatment; she said she intended to drown herself; took her home with me and she has been there ever since; my wife has examined the condition of the girl and says it is horrible; her legs are blue and ribbed; Mrs. Malsch said she had been treated like a nigger; her arms and body are scarred.

Miss Gross was recalled and stated that she had overheard Mrs. Malsch say to her husband that if he had not burned the girl's fingers she would not have run away.

THE DEFENDANTS.

The defendants, as indicated by the name, are German. Malsch is probably over fifty years of age, and his wife some years younger. They are strong, hearty persons, and apparently very ignorant. Mrs. Malsch has a bad look about her, while her husband is simply brutish in appearance. Other witnesses were present to testify in corroboration of that already detailed, and many more were promised if needed. Mayor Brush, however, considered that he had more than enough to warrant him in holding the defendants to answer the charge.

The only testimony Malsch wanted to offer was that, as he claimed, the girl had run away because she had been stealing. This the Mayor declined to hear, and the defendants were held for trial. The bail in the case of was fixed at two thousand dollars, and in default they were committed to jail.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER of the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Pennsylvania, made March 4th, 1869, there will be exposed at Public Sale, at McILWAINE'S AUCTION ROOMS, in the City of Pittsburgh, on the 10th Day of April, 1869,

At 10 o'clock A. M., the following described Real Estate of JOSHUA RHODES, Bankrupt, subject, however, to existing liens, viz.:

All that lot of ground, situate in the First ward of the city of Allegheny, county of Allegheny, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point 132 feet 3 inches southwardly of Rebecca street, 14 inches westwardly from the line dividing out-lots numbers 23 and 24 in the Reserve tract opposite Pittsburgh; thence parallel with said line southwardly 415 feet 3 inches to Bank Lane; thence along Bank Lane westwardly 192 feet 6 inches to line of land of J. B. Lindsay and H. D. Whipple; thence along said Lindsay and Whipple's line northwardly 442 feet 2 inches to a point within 132 feet 3 inches of said Rebecca street; thence north 68½ degrees east 205 feet 9 inches to the place of beginning.

Also, a certain other Lot or strip of land, 14 inches in width and running from Bank Lane to within 132 feet 3 inches of Rebecca street aforesaid along the eastern boundary of the lot of ground above described, and extending from said eastwardly boundary to the dividing line between out-lots numbers 23 and 24 aforesaid, less the following described piece of the above described lot, to-wit: All that certain lot or piece of ground beginning at a point at the line of property of Joshua Rhodes on Bank Lane; thence along the line of said property of said Rhodes 241 feet to a point; thence by a line 34 feet 4 inches to corner of property of Lindsay and McCutcheon; thence by the line of said Lindsay and McCutcheon 225 feet to Bank Lane; thence along Bank Lane 38 feet 5 inches to the place of beginning, on which first and second described pieces of ground, less the last described piece of ground, is erected a large Brick Malt House.

Also, all those two certain lots of ground, situate in the City of Pittsburgh, county of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows: Beginning on Irwin street at the distance of 188 feet 7 inches from Duquesne Way; thence at right angles with Irwin street 60 feet; thence parallel with Irwin street 40 feet; thence at right angles with Irwin street 60 feet to said Irwin street; thence along the same 40 feet to the place of beginning, being lots Numbers 3 and 4

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Notice to Our Readers.—Any subscriber who removed on the first of April, should leave the number of his present residence, at our counting room, so that his paper may be left without interruption by the carrier.

There were five common cases at the Allegheny lock-up yesterday morning.

Allegheny Councils.—A regular meeting of the Allegheny Councils will be held to-morrow (Thursday) evening, April 8th, at seven o'clock.

Committed.—Alderman Mullen, of Allegheny, yesterday committed to jail Jacob Moor, charged with assault and battery on oath of his wife, Mary Moor.

False Alarm.—Last evening, about half-past six o'clock, an alarm of fire was struck from box 26, Allegheny Fire Department, corner of Pasture Lane and Taylor Avenue. The alarm turned out to be false.

Harper & Brothers.—Elsewhere will be found the card of this mammoth printing establishment in New York, announcing the publication of a number of valuable books on subjects of popular interest at this time.

The Magill Divorce.—The Magill Divorce bill passed the Senate yesterday, and having previously passed the House, only awaits the signature of the Governor to divorce the parties from the bonds of matrimony.

Larceny.—Robert Miller made information yesterday, charging John Nicholson with the larceny of a silver half dollar, two silver half dimes and twelve dollars in fractional currency. Nicholson was arrested and held for a hearing.

Taken Over.—James Boyle, sentenced to five years imprisonment for felonious assault and battery, and John Allen, sentenced two years for highway robbery, were taken over to the Western Penitentiary Monday afternoon by Sheriff Cluley.

Assault and Battery.—Bernard Coleman made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging John Kretz with assault and battery. He alleges that Kretz beat him with his fist without just cause or provocation. Kretz was arrested and held for a hearing.

The Park and Water Bills.—The bills relative to a City Park and the Water Works, which were presented in the Lower House, and passed, some time since, yesterday passed the Senate, and now only require the Governor's signature to become a law.

Used a Knife.—William Thomas made information before Alderman McMasters yesterday against James Burgess for aggravated assault and battery. Thomas alleges Burgess struck at him several times with a knife, with the evident intention of wounding him. Warrant issued.

Whose are They.—Yesterday morning a couple of baskets, one empty, the other containing two loaves of bread, a can of preserves—part of which had been eaten—and other edibles, were found in Leonard's lumber yard, Penn street, near Sixth (St. Clair.) Some good housewife doubtless mourns the mysterious depletion of the household larder.

Pittsburgh Presbytery.—The Pittsburgh Presbytery of the Reformed Presbyterian Church will commence its regular semi-annual sessions in the First Reformed Presbyterian Church (Dr. Douglas') this morning at eleven o'clock. Delegates will be appointed to attend the meeting of the General Synod which will be held in Cedarville, Ohio, on the 19th of next month, and the usual business transacted.

Arrested on a Bail Piece.—David Anday, who, it will be remembered, was held to bail in the sum of three thousand dollars for his appearance at court to answer a charge of felonious shooting, which occurred in Allegheny city some two months since, was, yesterday, arrested on a bail piece issued at the instance of William Latimer, his bail. He was taken to the lockup, and will be committed to jail this morning.

For Sheriff.—In another column Mr. Wm. A. Herron announces himself as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Union Republican County Convention. Mr. Herron is a gentleman of large business capacity, courteous manners, and the possessor of high moral and mental qualities. As Clerk of Courts he for a number of years gave evidence of capacity, and, we daresay, if elected Sheriff he would discharge his duties ably and faithfully.

Erratum.—In noticing the removal of Messrs. Charles Abel and Co.'s drug store to No. 172 Wylie street, the types made us locates the old one at the corner of Fifth avenue and Grant streets, which is the house now occupied by Joseph Abel as a drug store. The error was provoking. Charles Abel & Co. formerly occupied the house corner of Washington and Wylie streets, and it was from that base they removed to take possession of their present magnificent new store.

Severely Injured.—Monday afternoon Isaac Ross, employed in the Sligo Iron Mills, was knocked down by a pulley which became disarranged in the machinery just as he was passing under it. He was hauling on a track at the time a quantity of hot iron, with which a portion of his body came in contact with in falling, and was severely burned. He also suffered a fracture of the knee and had his face badly cut. Dr. Roberts, of South Pittsburgh, attended his injuries at his residence.

A Child Stabs and Kills His Brother.

We are indebted to a friend at Butler, Pa., for the following interesting item by telegraph. On last Sunday, two little children of Mr. Martin, residing at Evansburg, were engaged at play in a room by themselves. One of the boys aged nine years, got on a chair, from which the younger, a precocious lad of five summers, ordered him off. Refusing to get down, the second little fellow struck his brother an upward blow in the abdomen with a sharp knife, inflicting a wound from which he died within two hours.

Sixteenth Ward Schools.

By the changing of the ward lines in the consolidated districts, the Sixteenth ward was deprived of school buildidgs. As a remedy for this two temporary buildings have been secured until new structures can be erected. The temporary schools thus provided are in different sections of the ward. One on Bloomfield and Thirty-third streets and the other on Cedar street. Contracts have been or will be immediately awarded for the construction of two commodious school buildings, located at either side of the ward. The school will be resumed in the temporary houses next Monday morning. Two intermediate teachers have been assigned them by the Central Board, and the intention is as soon as possible to add two more teachers for the Grammar Department.

Back Again.

Louis Anderson was again found in the Allegheny lock-up yesterday morning. Louis is the colored individual who, a few weeks since, became acquainted with our readers, on account of a difference between himself and his wife in regard to the intimacy existing between the lady and another colored gentleman. In that case Louis became so much excited that his wife left his domestic hearth and engaged boarding elsewhere, and Louis, on her information, was brought before the Mayor and fined for disorderly conduct. The affair was thus settled, and things went on with apparent harmony until Monday evening, when Louis, slightly intoxicated, was passing up Federal street and noticed his wife. He immediately became excited as before, and succeeded in a few minutes in attracting the attention of the police, three of whom, after infinite struggling, conveyed him to the lock-up. Yesterday morning he was sober again, and being in the penitential mood, voluntarily took an oath to abstain from liquor during the year. The Mayor imposed a fine of twenty dollars and costs upon him, which he paid and was discharged. Louis is said to be an industrious and quiet man when not intoxicated, but when in liquor is exceedingly quarrelsome, which accounts for his getting into trouble.

I. O. O. F.

The commemoration medal for the 26th of April next is described as follows: The Order is represented by three female figures—Faith, Hope and Charity. Faith, the central figure, with outstretched wings, is assisted by Hope in supporting an infirm man, who implores their help during his helplessness. On the right is Charity, upheld by Faith, and reaching forth to alleviate the suffering of the widow and her orphan. Above the figures, and in the heart-shaped pannel which incloses them, is the All-seeing Eye; at their feet is a head of Time, from which spread olive branches emblematic of peace and prosperity. Pendant from the pannel is a ribbon, with the motto of the Order, Friendship, Love and Truth. The design is by Malcolm J. Donald, a young artist, and the execution of the work in metal has been entrusted to A. C. Paquet. This medal is the one authorized by the Joint Committee of Celebration appointed by the Grand Lodge and Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania.

On Duty Again.

So long a time had elapsed since the name of Christy Bradford appeared in the police reports that the general impression was that Christy was off duty, and had resolved to behave himself in the future like a gentleman, and we are inclined to the opinion yet that such was Christy's intentions, but he failed to carry them out to the letter. A few evenings since Christy, accompanied by Neely Burns and another representative of the Fifth ward, having taken a little too much "benzine," went to a house in the Seventh ward, broke open the door and acted in a very disorderly manner. Some of the police, hearing a noise in the house, entered and succeeded in arresting Neely and the other man, but Christy made his escape through a back window. He was, however, arrested yesterday and taken before the Mayor, who required him to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs.

THE ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS.

Regular Meeting of the Board of Controllers—Reports of Local Boards—Resignations and Appointment—The Monthly Attendance—Resolutions, &c.

The Allegheny Board of School Controllers held a regular monthly meeting last evening in the Common Council Chamber, City Building.

President Clark called the Board to order at 7½ o'clock. The proceedings were opened with prayer by Rev. King.

The roll was called, when the following members answer to their names:

Messrs. Barr, Boyle, Barker, Beckart, Brown, Borland, Chadwick, Dennison, Eaton, Francis, King, Kollock, Lea, Lockhart, Miller, Moul, Mussler, McConnell, McClinton, Riggs, Sprague, Trimble, Wilhelm, White, and President Clarke.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

REPORTS OF LOCAL BOARDS.

Encouraging reports were received from the Local Boards of First, Second and Third wards. The Third ward Board reported the resignation of Mr. C. Thorn, as a member of the Board, and the appointment of Mr. Arthur Hobson to fill the vacancy. The appointment was confirmed.

The Fourth Ward Board reported a slight falling off in the attendance during the month. They also reported the resignation of Mr. Loomis as a member of the Board, and the election of Mr. Kollock to fill his place. Also the resignation of Miss Mary E. Hughes, teacher in room No. 6, house No. 4, and the election of Miss Lizzie S. Renwick to fill the vacancy. The action of the Board in both cases was confirmed.

The Fifth ward Board reported the schools in a flourishing condition. Also, the resignation of Miss A. E. Pitcairn, in the Grammar Department, and the election of Miss Lina Anderson to fill the vacancy. The action of the Board was confirmed.

The Sixth ward Board reported the resignation of Mr. J. T. Richey and the election of Mr. Andrew Frazier to fill his position in the Board. This action was confirmed.

The Eighth ward Board reported the attendance at the schools so much increased during the month as to crowd the school room.

The Committee on Colored Schools reported the schools prosperous. The report also recommended the granting of the petition of the "Social Band" for privilege to meet in one of the rooms of the school house. After some discussion a motion to grant the petition in accordance with the report was lost.

Mr. Boyle, from the Finance Committee, to which was referred the matter of exonerating Mr. Allen. Means, from the payment of an excessive school tax, reported favorably to granting the exoneration.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Moul, from a special Committee, reported that the Courts had set aside the order creating the Seventh ward Independent school district, that a new bill had been sent on to Harrisburg creating it again, and our representatives had pledged themselves to oppose the bill. The report was received and the Committe discharged.

The Secretary presented the bill of the City Solicitor, J. C. McCombs, for twenty-five dollars, for professional services rendered in the matter of the Seventh ward school district. After some discussion, the bill was laid on the table.

A number of other small bills were also presented and warrants for their payment ordered to be drawn.

The Secretary presented the bond of Wm. Hamilton, Treasurer of the Board, for $30,000, which was accepted.

Also, a tabular statement exhibiting the monthly attendance, as follows:

	Enrolled.	Average.	New Scholars.
First Ward	603	568	9
Second Ward	1,212	1,052	22
Third Ward	1,313	1,124	34
Fourth Ward	1,057	903	17
Fifth Ward	427	354	30
Sixth Ward	701	577	24
Eighth Ward	172	148	4
Colored schools	184	134	14
Total	5 739	4,860	151

The report was received and filed.

Mr. Morris presented a resolution instructing the Secretary to notify the Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Seventh Ward School District, to perfect an organization and report the names of the Directors to the Secretary of School Board, that they may be added as regular members.

Mr. Francis moved to amend by appointing a special committee of three, to audit the accounts of the Seventh Ward School Directors, and report the names of the Directors for enrollment as regular members of the Board at the first meeting night in June.

The motion as amended was carried, and Messrs. Boyle, Barker and Dennison appointed.

Mr. Eaton presented a resolution authorizing the appointment of a Standing Committee on Music. Laid over, in accordance with the rules.

Mr. Francis, a resolution instructing the Committee on Printing to have blanks for the use of the Board printed. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Francis the Committee on Salaries were instructed to report at the next meeting the time of the commencement of Mr. Horner as Music Teacher in the Schools and his salary.

On motion, adjourned.

Alleged Larceny of Iron.

Officer James A. Bell, of Alderman Taylor's police, yesterday made information before that magistrate against John Law for larceny. Law is a shoemaker and resides on Penn street, in the Twelfth ward. Officer Bell was informed that in his house was a lot of scrap iron, which was supposed to be stolen. Upon this information he made the charge, as stated, and procured a search warrant. An examination of Law's premises revealed a quantity of the goods as indicated, part of which was identified by Mr. R. S. Ramsey, foreman of the Pennsylvania Railroad car shops, who accordingly made another information against Law for the larceny of a lot of patent brake coupling chains. Law was arrested, and after a hearing committed to jail for trial.

Almost a Riot—How it Originated and How Prevented.

Monday evening, about six o'clock, there was a strog probability of a riot at Shoenberger's nail mills, in the Ninth ward, which, however, was checked, before any serious consequence resulted, by the timely interference of a number of citizens. The origination of the affair, and the circumstances connected with it, so far as we have been able to ascertain them, are as follows:

On Thursday of last week the employes of the establishment asked permission of the foreman, Mr. William Tatnall, to attend the funeral of one of their fellow-workmen, who had died the day previous, which was granted on condition that the lost time should be made up on Saturday. The arrangement, it appears, was agreed to, and the hands attended the funeral, but when Saturday arrived they refused to work after the regular hour for stopping, the result of which was that six nail feeders, who it seems, were the ringleaders in the matter, were discharged. Monday morning the "boss" nailers refused to work unless the feeders who had been discharged Saturday were reinstated and allowed to go to work as usual. The manager would not consent to this arrangement, and the "bosses" insisted, in consequence of which they were discharged and other men employed in their stead. Their discharge, it appears, dissatisfied several others, who also quit work, and during the day numerous threats of vengeance were made against those who would not sustain the strike, and it was finally ascertained that the "strikers" had determined to make an attack on the working party when they left the mill in the evening. This fact having become generally known in the vicinity of the mills, a large crowd of citizens had collected to witness the riot. The workmen had been informed of the intended attack, and had prepared themselves for the emergency, and when the mill stopped they all came out together. As soon as they reached the street they were attacked by the "strikers," and for a while angry words passed between the parties, which, in several instances, terminated in blows.

For a few minutes there was a very flattering prospect for a bloody riot, and many of the spectators who had assembled to witness the affray, fearing the consequences if they should remain, retired hastily without awaiting to see the result. There was a number of quiet citizens present, however, who had been led there not out of curiosity, but rather with a view to preventing the expected riot, and as soon as they saw there was really danger of an outbreak, they interfered and in a short time induced the attacking party to withdraw.

There were several blows struck and several persons knocked down but no one seriously injured.

We learn that information has been made before Alderman Taylor, charging the ringleaders of the party with riot.

Lecture Last Night.

The audience that assembled last night to hear Mr. Langston's lecture on "Thaddeus Stevens" was small, smaller indeed, than was the due of both the orator and the subject. A tribute to the memory of one of the greatest statesmen of this Commonwealth deserves more attention in a city which has so often supported the favorite measures of his political life. Although there was a delay of half an hour before Mr. Langston appeared, he was favorably received by the audience, and throughout, drew their closest attention.

As was to be expected, the lecture was more a resume of Mr. Stevens' political career, than a history of his private life, and bore most especially upon his opposition to slavery, and efforts in behalf of the colored race. It showed careful study and a thorough knowledge of the subject, and a sympathy with it that is often wanting in the efforts of more pretentious orators.

Mr. Langston's voice is powerful, and his manner easy and self-confident. His delivery has the argumentative and convincing style of the lawyer, rather than the easy fluency of the professional orator. Although the audience was small it was attentive, and frequent applause testified its approval of the lecturer, as well the white portion of it, as those who felt the stronger bond of a common race.

A New Dodge in the Coal Business.

We were informed yesterday that several coal haulers have been practicing a sharp game on their customers, and it is believed upon their employers also, by which they have made quite a nice thing. It is alleged that they use one ticket for several loads of coal, taking care always that the amount of coal in the load is always less than the ticket calls for: for instance, they will take a load of forty bushels, get the ticket, and when the coal is delivered show the ticket and retain it. They then put thirty bushels in the wagon, and when it is delivered instead of exhibiting the ticket for thirty bushels the former one is produced. The money is then collected and the cost of thirty bushels paid over and the remainder pocketed. How long this thieving practice has been in operation, or to what extent it is engaged in, our informant was unable to say. It is easy remedied, however, as consumers have only to require the ticket to be delivered for every load of coal they receive.

Stabbing Affray at Noblestown.

On Monday evening, about ten o'clock, Peter Riley and Steven Bulger, coal miners residing at Noblestown, got into an altercation in Thompson's saloon, when the former drew a knife and stabbed Bulger in the abdomen. It appears that Bulger was a much larger man than Riley, and that he had twice knocked the latter down before he, Riley, made any resistence, and after knocking him down the second time they took hold of each other, and in the scuffle which ensued they fell, Bulger falling uppermost, and he was in that position beating Riley when the stabbing was done. As soon as Bulger was stabbed he relaxed his hold and Riley fled. He was arrested in Noblestown, however, yesterday morning, and was taken before Justice McCormick, who committed him to await the result of Bulger's injuries. Riley was brought to the city last evening and confined in the lock-up and will be taken to jail this morning.

Dwelling House Entered.

Yesterday morning, at an early hour, a member of the family of Jos. Heifer, residing on Robinson street, near Sandusky, Allegheny, was awakened by hearing a crash, and when descending to the lower floor to ascertain the cause of the noise, discovered a large China mantle ornament laying in fragmenta upon the floor. Further investigations revealed the fact of an attempted robbery of the house by two thieves who had gained access by prying open the shutters upon one of the rear windows. It is supposed they knocked down the ornament in attempting to light the gas and were thus thwarted in their nefarious designs by the awakening of the inmates. They were noticed making a rapid exit through the back yard, but were not pursued and escaped. They secured no booty.

Assumed New Quarters.

Any line of business well managed and closely attended to must pay. Success may be slow coming, but come it must if the shoulder be kept close to the wheel, and needful exertion be kept up. Only a short time many business men imagined that our friend, William Bingham Jr., made a mistake in abandoning the lucrative and responsible position of Cashier of the Adams Express Company, to asume a ship agency for this city,—an untried experiment. He did not think so, however, and from his outlook felt that such a business could be made remunerative if managed with care, and conducted properly, for there were no good reasons why our citizens should have to visit New York to make arrangements for a trip to Europe, as they had to do in large measure. Especially was this the case with Cuban passengers, but by systematic and persistent advertising, the ability to do all that he promised, and representing none but first class vessels, Mr. Bingham has succeeded so well in convincing our citizens of the advantages of purchasing tickets at home, that he requires more room for the proper transaction of his increasing business, and to this end has made a change of location, taking possession of the second floor of building No. 143 Smithfield street, which he has fitted up in splendid style, and where he will be pleased to see his friends. Mr. Bingham is a careful, experienced and enterprising gentleman, and understands the ship agency business as well as any agent in the country. He attends ts all the details himself, and the passenger who books with him for any foreign port is sure to have no more trouble or vexation than he would have stepping aboard the cars at the Union Depot for Philadelphia. Mr. B. represents a first class line, and persons entrusting their ship business with him can rely on being properly taken care of and comfortably provided for on the journey. In a community like this, where he is universally known, we feel that commendation at our hands is useless, as Mr. Bingham, has long been prominently before the public as one of the most enterprising, painstaking and successful representative young business men, of the city.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The attendance at the Opera House last night, on the occasion of the benefit of Mr. and Mrs. Vandeeren, was quite large, and the entertainment, as might have been anticipated, was excellent. To-night Harry Hotto, the popular "funny man" of the establishment, takes a benefit, on which occasion a very attractive and amusing bill will be presented.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Notwithstanding the strong effort made to break down the Pittsburgh Theatre, since Mr. Williams took charge of it, he has succeeded in building up a paying business, and gives the only first-class variety entertainments in the city. He opened the establishment under discouraging circumstances, but by perseverance, attention to business, his gentlemanly manner and liberality has overcome all obstacles and can defy any further attempt of his enemies. His present company presents an array of talent seldom found in such an establishment, and the entertainments are of the very best of their character.

Carpets, Carpets, Carpets..

The old, established corner dry goods house of Mr. Richard Deaker, Fifth avenue and Grant streets, is taking the lead this Spring in the matter of Carpets, having a remarkably large and judiciously assorted stock which he offers at great bargains. Our readers can do no better in the city, both in regard to selection and price, and we urge them to pay the well-stocked salesrooms a visit before purchasing elsewhere. All the new styles in foreign and domestic carpets are included in the stock, and are marked down at popular prices.

Marvin's Superior

Lemon Biscuit,
Sugar Biscuit,
Ginger Snaps,
Spiced Jumbles,

Are for sale by all grocers at retail, cheaper, and of better quality, than people can make at home. Bakery No. 91 Liberty street. fmw:2w

Grocers who do not sell the Excelsior Browned Coffee, put up in pound packages by Strickler & Morledge, of the extensive Iron City Spice Mills, Fifth Avenue, near High street, are unmindful of the best interests of their customers. The Excelsior Coffee is so carefully browned and prepared as to retain all the aroma, and one-half a pound is equal in strength to a full pound of that browned in the old-fashioned way by housekeepers. The pure spices manufactured at the Iron City Mill are the best in the market, and are kept for sale everywhere.

Library Books.—As this is the season for the opening of Sunday Schools throughout the country, the libraries will have to be replenished, and, doubtless, many of our city schools are in need of first-class library books. If such be the case, a rare opportunity is presented at Colonel J. D. Egan's book and periodical store, Sixth avenue, near Smithfield street, where a large and full assortment of excellent library books will be found, and which can be bought at half price.

That Elephant.—Several of our cotemporaries are going wild over the large elephant landed from one of the steamboats on Friday, on his way to Philadelphia. Hundreds followed him out Fifth avenue yesterday, all remarking what a wonderful trunk he had. A newsboy near by, who is always wide awake, remarked he could buy a nicer and better trunk than that elephant had, at Libler's, 104 Wood street.

All Admit that the improved laughing gas as administered by Dr. Gillespie is much superior to that used by other parties. Go and try it, as that is the only place where it can be had. It is something new, and known only to himself. No charge for extracting when teeth are ordered. His office is 246 Penn street.

Cheap Books.—Col. J. D. Fagan, Sixth avenue, near Smithfield street, has a large assortment of new and interesting books, and also a large collection of valuable second hand books all of which he is selling at half price. This is an opportunity, for procuring cheap and valuable books, which every one should improve.

Cure for the Blues.—To go to Liebler's store, 104 Wood street, and see the amount of business he is doing in the Trunk, Valise and Satchel line. Always wide awake, he keeps his trade moving, sells low, keeps good work, and always gives satisfaction.

Dark and Gloomy.—The weather is dark and gloomy, but Liebler's trunks are the very best, and sold at a very small price over cost, 104 Wood street.

Opening, on Friday, 9th inst., a splendid stock of New Millinery Goods, at Mrs. M. KITCHEN'S, 100 Federal street, Allegheny City, Pa.

The Continental.

Continental money, the continental congress, continental styles and continental laws were doubtless all good things in their time, but their day and generation have pased, and greenbacks, the Congress of the United States, Paris styles and the laws of congress have superseded them; but the Continental saloon, Mr. Holtzheimer proprietor, which every body in the city knows is on Fifth avenue next door to the Post Office, is, as it always has been, the leading establishment of its character, in the city. It has not yet been superseded in any respect, and we feel confident it will not be so long as Holtzheimer is the proprietor.

Leisure Hours,
Leisure Hours,

Has reading for the young,
Reading for the old,
Reading for all.

The April number contains, No. 9 of Mr. King's serial history of this vicinity—graphic descriptions and interesting reminiscences, anecdotes and statistics; "Arthur Maynard's Love," "The Stoic and Volatile Maid," "Biography of J. Edgar Thompson, Esq.," and the conclusion of "Cast Adrift," "Long Ago," "Fame, and How to Win It," "Non-Conjunctions," "Local Fueillton," Conundrums, &c., &c. For sale by all news dealers, and by O'Dwyer & Co., Publishers, 59 Fourth avenue. 6

The Pretty Spring Styles, commencing to make their appearance on the streets, do not afford a fair idea of what has thus far been introduced at our leading depots of fashion. Any of our lady readers desiring to examine the innovations and novelties in bonnet trimmings, ribbons, flowers, lace goods, embroideries, gloves, etc., should pay the establishment of W. W. Moorhead, No. 81 Market street, a visit. They will there find one of the most admirably assorted stocks of goods ever opened in this city, and we are assured that the prices are fixed lower than they have been for a number of years.

Chapped Hands, face and all roughness of the skin, certainly cured b using the Juniper Tar Soap, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. It surpasses all other remedies as it will prevent roughness of the skin if used during cold weather. It is easily applied, avoiding all the trouble of the greasy compounds now in use. It can be used by ladies with the most tender skin, without irritation or pain, making it soft and clear. Sold by the druggists generally. wT

We Earnestly impress it on the minds of our readers that Mr. Leibler's, No. 104 Wood street, is the place to buy a trunk, valise or anything in his line. It is a fact that he sells goods 10 per cent. lower than any first class house in the city. His No. is 104 Wood street.

Off for School.—If your son or daughter intends going away to school, it is really necessary to have a good trunk. Mr. Leibler, No. 104 Wood street, sells the finest made trunks for less money than any house in the city. Call and see them.

Great Auction Sale Continued of Macrum & Carlisle's entire stock of fancy goods and trimmings at No. 29 Fifth avenue, in the store lately occupied by A. H. English & Co. Auction sales at 10 A. M. and 2 and 7 P. M. See advertisement. H. B. SMITHSON & Co.

Economy is Wealth.—Then why not save five or ten dollars by buying your large trunks for traveling at 104 Wood street? Examine them before purchasing elsewhere, is the advice we give to all who wish a good trunk.

The place to get White Lime, Calcined Plaster, Hydraulic Cement, is at Ecker & Caskey's, 13 Smithfield street.
